OUTDOOR LIFE DREW STILLMANS TOGETHER

MRS. JAMES BROWN POTTER.
This photograph was taken when Mrs. Potter was at the height of her career as the young and beautiful wife of one of New York's young millionaires.

STILLMAN AS AN ATHLETE AT HARVARD.—The banker at college distinguished himself in all outdoor sports. He won honors at football and played on the ball team frequently. He is an expert polo player and an enthusiastic yachtsman.

guide spring out of his canoe and walk over the lawn toward her, will eventually be staged.

No one can say just what the baby Guy looks like, whether he has his mother's piquant features, his grand-mother's "cameo-like" nose, or whether another racial strain predominates. The law will look after him well. His legitimacy is assumed until his illegitimacy is established by great evidence and beyond a reasonable doubt.

Guide Also Has Vanished.

Beauvais has disappeared. He came down to New York several months ago and gave a deposition for Mrs. Stillman's attorneys. It was learned, promising to appear again when wanted. Since that time the attorneys for the woman have not been able to find him and it is feared that the other side has spirited him away.

The fatal beauty of the Potters—this is a tradition in New York and New Orleans society and on the stage. What did "Fifi" Potter Stillman, this mother of the mysterious fourth child, look like? Here is the best description obtainable:

Hair with tints of auburn. The strands have retained most of their brilliance, giving a kenna tone. Eyes of hazel. Her nose is straight, not too long, not too short. Her coloring is green. Her figure is of medium height. She has always been exquisite in dress, and when clinging clothes were in vogue she was decidedly statuesque. Her fondness for outdoor life gave her a beautiful and distinctive coloring.

Led Reserved Career.

Her social life since her marriage has been subdued and exclusive. She has not taken part in public ventures, and is less known to the general public than other women of society.

In her debutante days she used to play tennis at Newport, but of later years she has confined her tennis to her private court at Three Rivers, Que. She has reverted to her love for the woods and things primitive.

Mrs. Stillman's love of outdoor life and forest environments was exemplified in her marriage. The New York Times described the wedding in part as follows:

"There have been few more notable weddings in New York society than that which took place yesterday afternoon (June 3, 1911) at Grace church. It was that of Miss Anna Urquhart, daughter of the late John Urquhart, and James Alexander Stillman, son of James Stillman, the banker."

King Edward of England, then the Prince of Wales, had been linked with her social triumphs. She had been for fifteen years or more the rage of London.

Longed For Her "Fifi."

But there had been all the while one pang of regret in her heart. She had been separated from her daughter, "Fifi," now Mrs. Stillman. Her former husband, James Brown Potter, had seen to it that he had reared her at Tuxedo, he had seen her married to James Stillman, the banker, and he had seen that the newspapers had referred to the bride as "the daughter of James Brown Potter." The Potters and Stillmans were forgetting the mother, but was "Fifi" forgetting?

The Stillmans, at any rate, thought she was forgetting, until Mrs. Potter returned from her social and stage triumph in Europe and landed in New York to fill a vaudeville engagement under William Morris at $3,000 a week. At this time the newspaper world was startled by a reunion between the stage mother and the rich society daughter.

Letter Makes Mother Cry.

It seems that on this opening vaudeville night Mrs. Potter received in her dressing room a note which made her laugh and cry. Her face was flushed and her hands trembled as she read and re-read this note:

"Dear Mamma: I want to see you so much. You must know how very much I want to see you. But you know how I am hedged around. You know how you were hedged about by people who wouldn't let you do what you wanted to. I want you to come to my home and see my babies, but it wouldn't be pleasant for either of us to meet there. Won't you meet me at the band stand in Central park tomorrow at 11? If you will, please wear two of these orchids over your heart."

Overwhelmed With Joy.

As the two met the daughter ran into her mother's arms. Mrs. Potter crying "Fifi, Fifi!" and the daughter smothering her face in her mother's ample bosom.

They stood there that way in the rain, crying and talking and laughing, for fifteen minutes. When they emerged they were all wet, but with arms about each other's waists they radiated happiness.

On the way to the Plaza hotel, where they had luncheon together, Mrs. Potter said:

"I felt as though I should catch fire and burn up."

It was said of mother and daughter, back in 1907, at the time of their reunion after an estrangement of ten years, that they were "very much

STILLMAN AS A GOLFER.—Stillman is an enthusiastic golfer and his friends say he is expert with the wooden club as well as the irons.

LOVES THE OUT OF DOORS.
—Like her husband, Mrs. Stillman is a lover of outdoor life, and enjoys all sports. Her favorite recreation is horseback riding. The picture shows her in the days when she was still Miss Fifi Potter, riding her favorite mount.

ter was crying and others in the car attempted to console her. "I don't need comfort," she retorted. "I am the happiest woman in the world. Let me cry. These are tears of joy."

During the following days Mrs. Stillman saw her mother most every day, either at luncheon or at No. 3 Washington square, where Mrs. Potter was staying with friends.

Elder Woman Quits Stage.

It was not long after this, in fact, on Feb. 24, 1909, less than eight weeks from the time of her reconciliation with Fifi, that Mrs. Potter announced her retirement from the stage. She went into seclusion and refused to talk, after having lived only half an eight weeks' engagement.

It was said on her behalf that her health was broken, that the critics had not been as kind as in former years, and that she was tired of blockings with her managers.

She has lived a quiet life, partly in this country, sometimes at the St. Regis hotel in New York City, and sometimes abroad. She has taken occasional role of patron at New York charity affairs, and has become reconciled to some of her old society friends, but accounts differ as to how far she extends her reconciliation with the Stillmans, other than the daughter.

The "background" for the two women of this tale is New Orleans. Cora Urquhart Potter was one of the fairest of the society buds of the old Creole city. Mrs. David Urquhart, grandmother of Mrs. Stillman, was a noted beauty also. The Urquharts in their day entertained in a big home on St. Charles avenue.

The Mardi Gras carnival drew its queen from this family long ago. They were related to Mrs. Caroline Richardson, who made possible the medical college of Tulane university. The present home of the family is an old

HANGMAN'S DAY IN DUBLIN ENDS WITH BLOODSHED

Six Executions Followed by Night Attacks.

BULLETIN.

DUBLIN, March 14.—(United News.)—Armed men attacked a party of raiding Black and Tans in Brunswick street late tonight and in the battle that followed three civilians were killed and five Black and Tans wounded. The barracks on Great Brunswick street were bombed and one civilian was injured.

BY JOHN LESTER.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

DUBLIN, March 14.—Six young Irishmen were hanged in Mount Joy prison this morning for violence against crown forces. Double executions took place at 6, 7, and 8 o'clock, and before daylight a throng of relatives and friends gathered at the jail gateway and later thousands of sympathizers joined in their prayers for the passing souls.

Hymns were sung frequently and the music was heard plainly in the cells of the condemned youths. Equally impressive were the long periods of silent prayer when scarcely a sound escaped the huge throng of men and women.

Two Mothers Break Down.

The relatives made a most impressive group. Two mothers broke down completely as the hour for the first execution approached. The mothers were Spartans in their behavior, a striking figure being that of Mrs. Whealan, a comely old peasant swathed in a Connaught shawl.

The first two to be hanged were Thomas Whealan and Patrick Moran, and an hour later Thomas Bryan and Patrick Doyle were executed. Francis Flood and Bert Ryan, two 19 year old members of the "Irish republican army," were the last to die.

Only Officials Present.

No bells were tolled in the prison, though all of the six men had been told at what hour they would die.

Only priests and prison officials were admitted, and silence was imposed upon them as the result of their description of young Kevin Barry's heroism when he was hanged a few months ago and the effect of their words upon the public.

At 8:20 o'clock the warden appeared and placed a notice of the executions upon the jail gate, and shortly afterwards the immense crowds, estimated at 20,000, silently dispersed. All work was suspended in Dublin until 11 o'clock as a sign of mourning, and not a single shop or factory was open.

Wieland Defendant in Grocer's Heart Balm Suit

William Wieland, 3444 Broadway, son of the late Jacob Wieland, founder of the Wieland Dairy company, was sued for $50,000 yesterday by Edward Boss, grocer, 3203 Broadway, who charged that Wieland had stolen the affections of Mrs. Alma Boss, the grocer's wife. Mrs. Boss was given a divorce two months ago. She made accusations against her husband, naming another woman. Boss at that time was a driver in the Wieland employ.

stationary of one of the leading hotels. It follows:

"My dear: I am just sick; I am so worried and so mad. Audrey came up last night and she told me that one of the boys at the academy told her that Mrs. H— had written one of the boys there and told EVERYTHING, and added a great many lies. Audrey never knew before that you were ever married or anything, so you can imagine how I felt.

"Must Stop Your Conduct." "It's awful—and you 'stand' for it—give to her and perhaps encourage it. It kills me to think my lovely friends at Lexington college will know that mess of stuff, but it is even harder to think YOU won't stop it. You can't tell me you can't, and if you don't think enough of me to stop that—if you don't love me, dear, enough to be nice to me in that ONE way of preventing that kind of going on I won't ever come to Oklahoma and I never want to be your sweetheart.

"If your love for me is not the kind to protect ME, if it isn't such love I can live without it. I WON'T stand that any longer—and I'm telling you for the LAST TIME. If you don't stop it I WILL, one way or another—KEEP IT IN MIND.

"If you ever do go to see her again don't speak to me. I know you can do that much, and you've got to do it to keep me."

On top of all the other worry I got a letter from mamma that I cried myself sick over. She is certainly broken hearted because we left Lexington college. Well—there's no use trying to tell you about it—you wouldn't understand—you wouldn't even try to, and so—I must bear it alone.

"You never seem to think I must consider any one in this world but you. You don't care who's heart I break if I do one crazy thing to please you and then—don't do it."

"Good night—I am too miserable to write. All my love.

CLARA SMITH.

Warning to Jake Hamon.

The other one mailed special delivery from Kansas City, Mo., July 19, 1915, follows:

"Monday.

"Dearest:

"I just received your letter. You complain of not hearing from me. Dearest, I've written you every day. One letter was not mailed which will make only one day without a letter. If you are not getting that many, will you please tell me, and if you are, do so. I don't want you to continue to write if you are not getting the letters."

"Say, I have decided to go home Wednesday or Thursday night for a few days unless you think it best for me to stay away from Oklahoma on Monday."

"I never seem to think I must consider any one in this world but you. You don't care who's heart I break if I do one crazy thing to please you and then—don't do it."

FICKLE

Little Girl Sobs for Her Mother, but Father's Promise of Candy Reconciles Her to Living with Him.

DOROTHY BITTLES.

(TRIBUNE Photo.) Pretty Dorothy Bittles, once called the "Cinderella of the courts," proved fickle and frolicsome when Judge Hopkins ended a dispute among relatives by returning her to her father, John Bittles, a holding engineer living at 8200 Rhodes avenue.

Dorothy arrived with her aunt, Mrs. William G. Willey, 5716 South Wells street, with whom she has lived for three years. For five minutes she jumped and frolicked about the room when Judge Hopkins upheld a decision rendered a year ago by Judge Denis E. Sullivan, who granted Mr. Bittles a divorce and the custody of his child, Dorothy, subbed. "I want mama," she cried clinging to Mrs. Willey's dress. Mrs. Willey burst into tears and pleaded with the father, but he was obdurate.

After a little coaxing Mr. Bittles enticed Dorothy into his arms. "Daddy, will you buy me some candy?" she asked, smiling coyly and wiping the tear streaks from her face. Daddy consented.

account of the Enid matter. If you think I had better stay here until after that is settled, wire me or call me, for otherwise I will leave here for Lawton, Wednesday night.

"I am unhappy here, I am wasting money to stay—I can't go to school without paying another full month, so I believe I will go home."

"I don't want to, but since I can't come to you now, I believe you would feel better if I were home, besides, they need me.

Wonders About His Course.

"Can't you meet me in Oklahoma City? I will expect to see you there unless you wire me to stay here on receipt of this letter. From your letters I really can't tell what you want me to do. Never saw anything like it—I can't always read your mind, dear, and especially when you are so far away from me. Why don't you be more explicit? Is it the Enid matter that makes you keep me away or is it Mrs. H—?"

"To save any mistakes and troubles after I came to Oklahoma, you had better tell me truthfully before I come. If it is any other reason than what you have told, I will come day and night and there will be TROUBLE."

"I am FOREWARNING you—I am telling you in plenty of time to save yourself. Remember it, my mind is fully made up, but it is with the understanding that you are to tell me no lies either about anything—that you are to do all you have promised, every way."

"That covers a great deal. Unless you expect to do it, my returning will be a mistake and I would rather never come to Oklahoma to make another. Answer me directly."

"You Also Are to Blame."

"You have been as much to blame as I for the ills of the past and you have as much at stake for the future as I. That's the way I feel about it, so don't misunderstand me."

"Your obligations are as great as mine—you have a shaken and shattered confidence to build up in me as well as I have in you. You must be good to me as you expect me to be to you, otherwise I am not the girl you're looking for."

"I wouldn't be happy there if you failed me in any way, and unhappiness brings about other things. Darling, I love you dearly—you have that love without the asking—but I am not an infallible human being. Don't expect me to do all the yielding—it is not right and I can NEVER think so."

"If you don't want me to leave here for Oklahoma Wednesday night wire, phone, or send a special delivery letter immediately on receipt of this. If I come it is as I have stated. If you expect me to do the right thing, I expect you to do as much. With all my love FOREVER."

Devotedly, CLARA.

The contract dated Ardmore, Okla., Jan. 27, 1918, was mailed from Cheyenne, Wyo., July 27, 1919. It follows:

"Ardmore, Okla., Jan. 27.—For and in consideration of $1 (one dollar) and other valuable consideration, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, I hereby release any and all claims that I have or may have against Jake L. Hamon, and this is in settlement in full for relations heretofore existing between us and claims for money."

"CLARA SMITH."

The "Enid matter" referred to a trial at Enid in a federal case in which Hamon was acquitted.

On direct examination, Mr. Ketch testified that upon Hamon's request, he had drawn $5,000 from his personal account and given it to Clara Hamon with a demand that she leave and remain away.

He said that Col. Hamon at first denied that his protégé had fired the bullet into his body, but then had amended that statement, and directed that the money be given to her, and that she be gotten away from Ardmore before the wounded man's wife and children came from Chicago.

"I want it given out I did it myself, and give Clara some money and have her get away," Ketch quoted Hamon as having said. "My wife will be here as soon as she hears of this and I want Clara to go. Tell the world any kind of a story; that I dropped the gun; anything."

Clara Has Property.

Ketch said Clara had a $125,000 interest in an oil lease, 5-70th interest in a gas lease, a good property, from which her income was $400 or $500, and that Clara and he owned a picture show at Healdton. She also has $5,000 worth of another oil company's stock. He could not say what other property Clara owned.

He said Hamon had given her a ten-carat diamond.

Ketch said Clara had drawn one $125 dividend on oil company stock since Hamon's death.

The defendant was in the courtroom early. She was dressed in the blue serge suit and sailor hat she wore on the opening day of her trial.

Mrs. Jake L. Hamon, the widow, leaning on her son's arm and in full mourning attire, came in a moment before court opened. She assumed her accustomed seat directly opposite the defendant.

The defense asked for the recall of Everett W. Sallis, chauffeur, who testified Saturday he had driven Clara on her flight from Ardmore after Hamon died. Sallis could not be found immediately, and Errett Dunlap, a business associate of Hamon, was called as the state's first witness of the day.

He said that on Tuesday, after Hamon was shot on Sunday night, Nov. 21, the wounded man had said he never would leave the sanitarium "until you boys take me out."

Lay Down in Dark.

"He told me he went over to his room late in the evening, threw off his coat and vest, and lay down on the bed for a rest," Dunlap testified.

Dunlap quoted Hamon as having said: "I had been there only a short time when I heard Clara come in. She laid her left hand on my head, and I felt her right on my shoulder; then she shot me."

"Of course, I have been looking for this," Dunlap quoted Hamon as having said. The reply was objected to and sustained.

J. H. Edwards of Topeka, Kas., president of an insurance company, identified a life insurance application from Clara Hamon, signed "Clara B. Smith," in January, 1917, in which she said she had been born on Oct. 22, 1891. That point was brought out, according to state's counsel, to prove that Clara Hamon was 19 when she first began her association with Hamon and was not a 17-year-old girl.

Clara to Testify Today.

Court recessed today just as the name of Mrs. W. B. Walling, sister of the defendant, was announced as the next witness. It was announced that she would be presented as the defense's first witness tomorrow and that she will be followed by the defendant's niece, Clara Hamon herself being called to the stand as the defense's last witness.

The defense previously had said its case is that the shot which killed the oil man was fired while he was in a drunken and brutal condition, and while he was making an attack on the defendant, probably while he was brandishing a chair.

Freeling tonight said that, judging from the rapidity with which the testimony had been gotten in, the trial should be in the hands of the jury by Thursday evening.

ILLINOIS AND INDIANA FEEL EARTH SHOCKS

A slight earth shock was felt yesterday morning throughout Illinois and southern Indiana.

From a dozen towns in the vicinity of Terre Haute, Ind., came reports of the tremors. It was also felt in Paris and Danville. The seismograph at the University of Chicago registered the shock at 6:15 o'clock in the morning, but it was so slight officials there could not explain the cause. A theory was offered that an explosion might have caused the slight "blurr" in the record line.

In none of the towns throughout Indiana and Illinois was the shock strong enough to break windows.

Utilities Men Discuss $500,000,000 Work Today

A state-wide construction program in which the public utility corporations of Illinois may spend $500,000,000 during the next three years, will be considered at a two-day convention of the Illinois Gas association, the State Electric association, and the Illinois Electric Railways association, which opens today at the Hotel Sherman. It is expected nearly 1,000 officials of utility concerns will attend. John F. Gilchrist, vice president, and W. L. Abbott, chief operating engineer of the Commonwealth Edison company, and Mr. J. Fernon of the Chicago elevated lines will speak today.

PACKERS SELECT ENVOYS TO U. S. WAGES PARLEY

Hoover and Wallace to Act for Government.

Developments in the stockyards labor situation yesterday were:

Announcement by Armour & Co. and Swift & Co. of new plans for an "industrial democracy."

Announcement that arbitration parley will open in Washington Monday, March 21. Packers and government appoint their representatives.

President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor leaves Washington for Chicago to preside at conference of international executive of nine trades to be held here Wednesday.

Union chiefs lay plans for alliance with farmers in a widespread attack against the packing interests.

Conditions at stockyards in Chicago and other centers are normal. No general strikes.

While Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was hastening toward Chicago to discuss with the international officials of nine trades employed in stockyards and packing houses the possibility of a united strike, two of the "Big Five" packers yesterday made a move toward peace in the shape of announcing plans for an "industrial democracy."

These plans were denounced by Dennis Lane, secretary-treasurer of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen's union, as "bunk and nonsense."

The Armour announcement was not unexpected. The original statement of the wage cut and change in working conditions declared a plan to bring "a closer relation" between the employees and management. The details, however, created considerable interest both in packing and union circles.

Details of the Plan.

Summarized, the details of the Armour plan, to which the Swift plan is said to be similar, follow:

PRINCIPLE—To give employees voice in labor conditions.

METHOD—Plant divided into four groups—beef, pork, production, and mechanical. Each division subdivided into voting precincts of about 300 employees.

REPRESENTATION—Employees of each precinct elect delegates to a divisional council. Divisional councils select three representatives to a general plant conference board. Company to name equal number of delegates to both board and councils.

WORKING PLAN—Divisional council to handle division matters. General board to handle matters affecting employees as a whole.

Execution in Company's Hands.

DUTIES AND POWERS—Board may make recommendations on employment, wages, working conditions, safety, sanitation, recreation, transportation, and other matters of mutual interest. Execution remains in hands of management. Board powers concern only policies.

GEOGRAPHY SET TO MUSIC

Miss Dorothy Timmerman and her pupils of the Kitty Corner school, near Palatine, in the midst of a geography lesson illuminated and made more attractive by appropriate selections on the phonograph. All the county schools are taking up this unique method.

"Atmosphere"

"ATMOSPHERE" in the form of phonograph music for pupils studying geography, history, literature, and writing is the latest idea being worked out in Cook county's rural schools.

The plan has met with particular success, it is declared, in the Kitty Corner school, two miles from Palatine.

Miss Dorothy Timmerman, the teacher, is enthusiastic over it. When her pupils study about France, Spain, Africa, or China, they receive inspiration from snappy phonograph music. The instrument stands in one corner of the one room schoolhouse, and the appropriate strains accompany each lesson.

The "study to music" idea is being introduced into the curriculum of each county rural school by A. E. Paul, supervisor of music.

"Bunk," said Dennis Lane, leading figure in the employees' unions. "The public will not be deceived by this attempt to slip one over, nor will the men become confused or stand for it. Unfortunately for his purpose, Mr. Armour cut wages and working conditions arbitrarily."

"Mr. Armour would now organize a company union, which won't have the power to consider the cut and change in working schedules already effected. Instead, he says that the next time he wants to cut wages he'll put it up to a board on which the labor side will have representation, but which will be controlled by Armour."

"The public is getting sick of this sort of propaganda. I should think Armour would discover that. He can tack up all the notices of elections he wants to and put all the finely worded statements he can write, but we won't fall for them."

Accepts Parley Proposal.

In accepting the decision of Secretary of Labor Davis to open the arbitration conference in Washington next Monday, Mr. Lane wired:

"I will defer to you and will be present in your office next Monday, March 21. Would respectfully suggest that you urge packers' principals to be present and thereby obviate unsatisfactory delays and hindrances to agreement, such as experienced heretofore. The workers are curious and excited and would greatly appreciate statement from you as to whether or not the packers will preserve the status heretofore existing, pending your mediatory efforts."

The packers yesterday announced the appointment of Attorneys Carl Meyer and James G. Condon of Chicago as their representatives at the arbitration hearings.

It is believed Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and Secretary of Commerce Hoover will act for the government.

Deal Out the Strike Ballots.

Union chiefs yesterday were busy dealing out ballots for the strike referendum to be held on Wednesday. The polling places will be outside the stockyards gates. President Gompers is expected here some time this afternoon.

In the involuntary proceedings in bankruptcy against the Seigel-Hecklinger Packing and Provision company, 326 West Thirty-eighth place, Frank McKey was appointed receiver under a bond of $25,000. Financial difficulties brought on by the drop in hides and meats were alleged.

Union officials announced they would pledge their support to the farmers toward the passage of the Kenyon-Kendricks bill to provide governmental regulation of the meat packing industry.

"We are going to show the farmers how the packers have hoodwinked them," Mr. Lane declared.

LABOR-CAPITAL NOTES

CHICOPEE, Mass.—The Fisk Rubber company, which has been operating on a three day schedule since Dec. 1, resumed full time and a wage reduction on both day and piece work was put into effect which amounts to an average of 10 per cent. About 1,800 employees are affected.

GREEN BAY, Wis.—Employees of the Northern Paper mills numbering about 500 walked out in protest against a 20 per cent wage reduction.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—Job printers of Salt Lake have filed a demand with the employers for $51 for a forty-four hour week, to date from May 1. At present the printers receive $39 to $42 for forty-eight hours a week.

TACOMA, Wash.—Indications are that all but two of the commercial coal mines of the state will close when a wage reduction, approximating 20 per cent, will be put into effect by operators.

AIRLEIGH, Mich.—The Tripp Manufacturing company resumed operation. The plant, which manufactures automobile parts and accessories, had been closed four months.

MONTREAL.—As a protest against a 20 per cent wage cut on March 7 more than 1,200 workmen of the Canadian Steel company at Longue Point went on strike today.

ARRESTED "FOR MILWAUKEE"—Centralia, Ill., March 14.—(Special.)—Frank Copeland, 55, was arrested late last night at Ashley, Ill., upon request of the police department of Milwaukee, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. Copeland had been working as a telegraph operator.

RAILWAY CHIEFS MUST TESTIFY; PRODUCE BOOKS

Labor Board Calls Them on Plea of Unions.

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.

Railroad unions declared last night that when prominent executives take the stand before the labor board Friday, the workers will be able to show the public that they have "sought in vain conferences with the carriers" to wipe out unreasonable rules in the national working agreements, which have been loading up the transportation bill.

HALE HOLDEN.

The board yesterday summoned T. De Witt Cuyler, chairman of the Association of Railway Executives, and his assistant, Robert S. Brinker, with books and records; Gen. W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania, and Carl R. Gray, president of the Union Pacific, to appear Friday.

The action followed an avowal from the unions, through Attorney Frank P. Walsh, that they could not and would not go on with their case until the witnesses were called. The board also summoned thirteen others to appear later, among them Hale Holden, president of the Burlington; C. H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central, and H. E. Byram, head of the St. Paul.

Jewell Issues Statement.

In a statement last night, B. M. Jewell, head of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, said:

"The way is now open to correct the mass of misrepresentation and misinformation with which the public has been deluged for six months. The public will now have an opportunity to learn that the railroad workers have not opposed any and all changes in the rules and national agreements, but have insisted merely that changes be made in accordance with the orderly processes of the law."

"The public may learn, too, that the national adjustment boards for which we have asked were originally advocated by the railroad executives."

Hold Wage Conference.

A conference between heads of four big railroad brotherhoods and members of the executive committee of the Association of Railway Executives was held here today in the office of Thomas De Witt Cuyler, chairman of the association. At its conclusion it was announced progress had been made "in the discussion of matters of common interest."

Reports from New York and other eastern points are that the workers are preparing to reject the wage cuts when conferences are held with the carriers, and the question then will go to the labor board. A few western lines say they have reason to expect a settlement may come out of the conferences with the employees.

HERE'S LAST CHANCE TO REGISTER FOR PENDING ELECTIONS

If you are unregistered and wish to vote either at the aldermanic and city elections April 5 or at the big judicial election June 6 you must register today. Polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m.

With little interest in the contest for the offices of city clerk and city treasurer and with supplemental aldermanic contests in only six wards—the Fourth, Thirteenth, Seventeenth, Twenty-fourth, Twenty-sixth, and Twenty-ninth—today's registration is expected to be light, from 15,000 to 22,000.

Voters who have changed addresses since the general registration last fall or the registration of Feb. 1 must get their names on the poll books today or miss their chance to vote April 5 and June 6.

The voting lists will be revised Saturday night, when clerks under the supervision of City Controller Harding will pay off the judges and clerks of election by check in the office of the city collector.

The present Chicago registration is 838,975, of which 553,718 are men and 285,257 women.

FACING PAY CUT, RAIL ENGINEERS STAND BY ROADS

A constructive program of education for all railroad employees, from presidents to crossing flagmen, was advocated to help solve the railway labor problem at the third annual conference of the American Association of Engineers in the Congress hotel yesterday.

Lewis Gustafson, superintendent of the David Rankin Jr. Technical school of St. Louis, declared that "education of every man, from the president to the flagman, would greatly relieve the situation."

W. W. K. Sparrow, assistant to the president of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, brought out the necessity of co-operation of all employees in the present crisis.

John R. Leighty, assistant chief engineer of the Missouri Pacific railway, presided. Discussion was led by F. G. Campbell, president of Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul lines, east section.

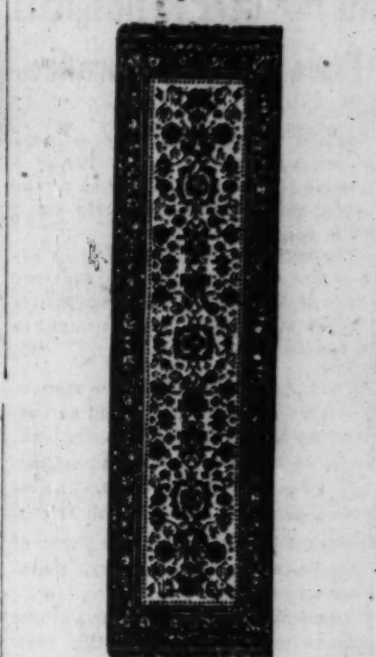

Professional engineers of the Erie road recently agreed to a salary reduction. Many members of the association said because of the crisis a salary reduction on all lines was to be expected. They believe engineers everywhere will agree to a cut because of their loyalty to the roads.

80 Per Cent in Hospitals Have No War Insurance.

This is the third and last of a series of articles detailing the results of a Tribune reporter's investigation of the charge that soldiers are poorly cared for in government hospitals.

The articles concern themselves especially with the contention that the three departments which now jointly have for wounded service men ought to be consolidated.

Virtually all former service men in government controlled as well as contract hospitals, chorus one complaint. They do not receive prompt adjustment of compensation claims. The resulting mental distress, which is superinduced by worry over the plight of dependents, retards recovery, physicians agree.

American Legion officers and others contend that the cure for this complaint is consolidation of the bureau of war risk insurance, the United States public health service and the federal board for vocational training.

System Is Necessary.

An excerpt from the report submitted recently by the American Legion's hospitalization committee, of which Gen. Abel Davis is chairman, reads:

"The situation will never be satisfactory until the ex-service man is put in a position where, in one office, he can receive complete attention in the matter of compensation, hospitalization, and vocational training; where some complete file will contain everything affecting his case. Then there will be no shifting of responsibility, no 'passing the buck' from one bureau to another."

"One office in Washington will not do; there must be a number of regional offices throughout the country with power to act. Any legislation which will accomplish that result will be satisfactory to the American Legion."

This report also advocates "dispatch in the matter of placing ex-service men in government owned or controlled hospitals."

A bill providing for much of the relief prayed for was passed March 2, but met a "pocket veto" fate. Mr. Wilson did not return it. President Harding, however, gave assurance that the American Legion's program would be one of the first matters considered at the special session of congress.

An appropriation of at least $10,000,000 for building of government hospitals is expected.

Few Have War Insurance.

Those working in the interest of disabled soldiers lately have called attention to a fact that was perhaps not generally known. It is estimated that 80 per cent of veterans in hospitals throughout the state have no war risk insurance.

In a recent report commenting on this condition, Capt. Myron C. Adams, executive manager of the Fort Sheridan association, wrote:

"The government got these boys going and coming. A great number of ex-service men were forced to get insurance lapses because of disability."

ties, which first made them unable to earn the premiums and later barred them from reinstatement.

At the Drexel Boulevard hospital it was found that 197 of 235 patients had no insurance, and at the Oak Forest sanitarium 68 of 84 patients were unprotected. This average will hold in other hospitals of the state, it is said.

"If something is not done about this," Capt. Adams' report continued, "it will soon result in a return to the old pension form of petition to congress in special cases, and will do much to undo the good which the original insurance system contemplated."

Hospital Near Completion.

The $5,000,000 Speedway hospital, now nearing completion, is generally regarded as the prospective haven of virtually all former service men in contract hospitals throughout the state.

It will be under United States public health supervision. The opening date, however, is still a matter of speculation. Most optimistic reports indicate that patients will be admitted July 1 at the earliest.

The Speedway hospital is built in sections separated by partitions. This arrangement contemplates the possible need of caring for different classes of cases in each section. Original plans provided accommodations for 2,500 patients. It was later announced that the north wing is to be used by doctors and employees. This will leave about 1,500 beds for patients.

Men Not Forgotten.

Perhaps the conclusion of this report should state that the investigation upon which it is based has tended to show beyond question that the men who responded to their country's call have not been "forgotten."

The men naturally look most to the American Legion, but innumerable other organizations, as well as individual samaritans, are championing their cause.

And the effort of all of these seems to be concentrated to one end—to get all disabled men in government controlled hospitals, first of all, and, secondly, center the responsibility for proper adjustment of any claims in one federal bureau.

Then, as the Legion report suggests, there can be little effective "passing of the buck."

MAYOR'S 5 CENT FARE BILL UP TO ASSEMBLY TODAY

Small Said to Be Chilly Toward Measure.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Springfield, Ill., March 14.—[Special.]—Mayor Thompson tomorrow will present to the legislature the city hall's street car bill to restore the 5 cent fare.

The proposal, which the mayor will support in person before the senators and representatives, is said to answer objections made to the earlier Etteleson bill and is said to be satisfactory to Gov. Small.

"The governor is not committed unqualifiedly to the mayor's scheme, however, it is said in well-informed administration circles tonight.

Mayor to Speak.

The hearing tomorrow is to be before a joint session of the senate and house committees on public utilities. All members of the legislature have been invited to attend.

Mayor Thompson, Chester E. Cleveland, and George F. Barrett, former judge and now of special counsel for the city in transportation affairs, are scheduled to speak.

The mayor, it is understood, will remain over until Wednesday to see the deputation of Chicago tenants, coming to advocate legislation offered by Senator Keatinger and the investigating committee that looked into rentals, alleged building conspiracies, and other matters connected with the Chicago housing situation.

Dailey Measure to Move.
The Dailey resolution providing for an immediate legislative investigation in a special order in the house for tomorrow morning and is scheduled for passage.

Senator Buck tomorrow will introduce a bill for the repeal of the direct primary law as affecting all cities and villages of 50,000 population or less.

The house tonight advanced all bills on first reading, including the Flagg bill directed at a repetition of the White Sox baseball mess and also the Little bill that prohibits gambling upon interscholastic or other amateur athletic events.

BRITAIN REDUCES NAVAL BUDGET; READY TO CONFER

For One Power Standard; Against Competition.

LONDON, March 14.—[By the Associated Press.]—The British naval estimates for 1921-22 are £91,186,869 gross and £82,470,000 net, it was announced by Lord Lee of Farnham, first lord of the admiralty, today.

It was explained that the estimates are £14,000,000 gross and £8,250,000 net less than the previous budget, that for last year.

In a statement explaining the current estimates, Lord Lee said they were based on the government's policy of maintaining a "one power standard."

Discussing the question of replacement of ships as they become obsolete, for which £2,500,000 are included in the budget, Lord Lee says:

"It cannot be too strongly emphasized that on making this long delayed beginning with the replacement of obsolete ships, the government neither commits itself to nor contemplates any building programs in answer to those of any other power."

Would Avoid Competition. "Indeed, it trusts it may be possible as a result of frank and friendly discussion with the principal naval powers to avoid anything approaching competitive building, either now or in the future."

As to the general policy Lord Lee said:

"It is the duty of the admiralty to carry out that policy as economically as possible, giving full weight to the geographical, international, and other considerations which have arisen since the war. This they are doing—in no mechanical spirit nor with insistence upon numerical equality—and recognizing the full necessity of reducing expenditure to the lowest limits compatible with national security."

Fewer Big Ships Ready. Lord Lee pointed out that the estimates included a reduction in the number of capital ships in full commission from twenty to sixteen, as compared to thirty-eight in 1914.

This is the smallest number that will enable "the essential seagoing technical training of officers and men to be carried out properly," the statement asserted.

Lord Lee cited the reduction of the North American and South African squadrons by one light cruiser each, complete temporary withdrawal of the South American squadron, and the reduction of the personnel of the fleet during 1921 to 121,700 men, as compared with 127,500 men in 1920, all as measures of economy.

Thus, he said, eight battleships armed with twelve inch guns, now in reserve, will be transferred to the disposal list, reducing the capital ships on the effective list to thirty, including the Australia, which belongs to the Australian commonwealth, and those which belong to the dominion of Canada, of which fourteen will be in reserve.

BUILDING UP THE NAVY

Navy recruiting reopened yesterday and the local office is permitted to accept for enlistment each week forty youths who yearn for life on the ocean wave. Yo! Ho! This is the first opportunity offered this year to those aspiring to be gobs. The first applicant, O. E. Wages of Oklahoma City, Okla., was enlisted as a second class fireman and on board a train for Philadelphia within a hour. Three others soon followed, and, after passing the medical examination, were put on Uncle Sam's pay roll.

Ex-sailors, recently out of service, are especially urged to re-enlist. Lieut. Commander Garret K. Davis is in charge of the bureau at 619 South State street. His orders are to seek quality rather than quantity. Recruiting officers are instructed to accept only such men as they care to "have ewing next them" in their hammocks and only those they would desire to have under their command.

Outlaw of Cameron Dam Asks for Pardon Again

Madison, Wis., March 14.—John Dietz, "outlaw of Cameron dam," has personally applied for a pardon to Gov. Blaine. If the needed papers are filed, a hearing on the application will be held April 5. This is Dietz's third attempt to obtain a pardon.

On Way to Recitation.

Baum was walking with several comrades to a recitation hall when he suddenly halted, drew an army pistol, and fired. Several cadets had tried to knock the weapon from his hands, but they were too late.

He was taken to the hospital and died a few hours later. An inquest disclosed that Baum was suffering from dementia praecox. It was announced at the academy.

Feared He Would Fail.

In a letter addressed to a classmate, Baum said he was taking his life because he feared he would not make a good officer.

His mother came here and took charge of the body. The funeral was held privately this afternoon and interment was made in the national cemetery here overlooking the Hudson.

DENBY DENIES CONVERGING OF FLEET IN PACIFIC

So Important a Policy Not Yet Considered.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., March 14.—[Special.]—Secretary of the Navy Denby, commenting upon reports that the Atlantic and Pacific fleets were soon to be united and based in the Pacific, declared that this important phase of naval policy had not been considered since he assumed direction of the department.

"Such an important phase of naval policy as the permanent disposition of the fleet must require careful study and thought," the secretary said.

The secretary of the navy also was disinclined to comment on the reports from London that the British naval estimates for 1921-22 had been reduced from £91,000,000 to £82,000,000, but he used it as a text for reiterating his hope that the American building program would not be curtailed.

Wants U. S. Program Carried Out.

The new secretary was gratified, he said, to be able to arrange his plans so he might go to sea next week and meet the navy face to face. He will leave Sunday for Guantanamo to join the fleet, spend several days aboard the fighting ships and in conference with fleet commanders, and watch the target practice and winter battle maneuvers. From Guantanamo he will go to Haiti and Santo Domingo.

Explains Haiti Visit.

Asked if there was any particular significance in his going to Haiti, Secretary Denby said:

"None whatsoever. The recent investigation of the conduct of the American marines there has nothing to do with my visit. That affair I regard as settled."

The secretary said that plans for the bombing tests to be conducted in June would be carried out. To the suggestion that naval officers had volunteered to board the ships to be bombed by army flyers, the secretary said:

"There will be no human targets. We are not at war with ourselves."

Fifth of Million Dollar

Postal Robbery Recovered

Toledo, O., March 14.—Postal inspectors here today announced the recovery of $200,000 worth of the loot in the $1,000,000 Toledo postoffice robbery of February 17. More than $145,000 of the bonds was recovered in New York City, $27,000 in Detroit, and $14,000 in Philadelphia.

PEACE IN THE PACKING INDUSTRY

Employers in the packing industry are showing a wise restraint in avoiding premature walkouts. With the executives apparently ready to accept the mediation proposed by the government there is good ground to hope a strike will be avoided and a fair adjustment worked out.

The public will watch developments with exceptional interest. If we are to win the industrial harmony the country must have in order to bring the business of the country out of its present depression and extend its foreign trade against the competition we must expect in the remaining profitable markets of the world, the greater industries must find a sound basis of durable peace in their own field. If peace can be won on the railroads, in steel, coal, and the packing industry the progress of the country will be assured and our economic recovery put far forward.

Peace can be had, we are confident, if the leaders on both sides of each controversy will meet in the spirit shown during the war, with a sense of their responsibility for the common welfare. The country and all its people are now passing through a period as difficult as that of the war and there is the same need for cooperation, for mutual consideration, for a pull all together.

PROFITEERING.

Recent inquiries by our useful food price expert, Mr. Poole, have thrown some light on the thriving subject of profiteering. Popular items on restaurant menus, such as the classic "ham and oysters (fried)," stewed tomatoes, grapefruit, and pie, show profits ranging from a low of 19.32 to 500 per centum of profit over current wholesale prices.

This is little business. If big business dared to lift profits at this rate what would happen? The question answers itself. Yet, is not profiteering profiteering?

It is, and it is not. There is no doubt the profits made by the minor middleman are enormous. In the total, they make up most of the difference between what the producer gets and what the consumer pays. Yet the middleman does not wax rich. He makes anything from a bare living to a small competence. The reason is that there are too many of him and the volume of his business is not great enough to carry his irreducible overhead unless he gets a very high profit on most of his sales.

Big business can and does, in most cases, take small profits. Little business must have large profits. But little business sells convenience. It is a costly commodity, yet city people will live it at any price. Few of us would give up city life or the conveniences it has for sale, including the little shop around the corner.

COLOMBIA'S OIL.

Senator Borah and other doubting Thomases are inclined to adopt the oil hypothesis or explanation number 2 in the proposed Colombia treaty.

That is not conclusive against the treaty. If a payment of $25,000,000 to the present Colombian government will insure control of valuable oil resources, it ought not to be opposed, provided two conditions are met.

First, the treaty should provide for guarantees against the withdrawal of our rights after the payment has been made and digested. What the present government gave might be soon taken away by its successor. Thus we should have nothing for our money but an international lawsuit or a foot in the Colombian puddle.

Second, if the nation's money is to be paid for oil concessions, what is the nation to get for it? We can imagine that an arrangement might be made with Colombia and with American oil interests under which American capital could go into Colombia to develop its oil resources, our government reserving certain rights and charging the private companies sufficient rent or percentage to justify its use of public money for the payment of the twenty-five millions. If a project of this sort is under way, we believe objection will cease, provided, of course, that a fair bargain is negotiated and proper guarantees contrived. It is certainly highly desirable that the possibilities of the Colombian oil resources be brought within our influence. We do not want them to go to our rivals.

STATE PARKS.

Our neighbor states, Wisconsin, Iowa, and Indiana, have state park systems which are a great and growing resource to their people. Illinois is trailing. Yet Illinois is not poverty stricken or its people lacking in public spirit, in foresight, in desire to enjoy the finer things of life.

Illinois has, indeed, some park reservations or preserves, but no comprehensive system. That lack has been felt and, with the backing of a dozen state organizations, Representative Kauffman of Oregon has introduced a measure establishing an advisory state park board in the department of public works, to make investigation throughout the state and evolve a state-wide park system which shall preserve beauty spots in every part of the state. The department itself will be empowered to make purchases, receive bequests or gifts of sites, and administer the parks, including power to bring condemnation proceedings.

The committees of citizens who have interested themselves in this desirable movement have already inspected eighteen places in the state and these undoubtedly can be added to with further inquiry. Illinois has a history more romantic than its people realize and a landscape possessing many features of great beauty. With the automobile and the good roads we are determined to have, state parks will be an asset of health, interest, and pleasure to virtually every one. We ought not to procrastinate in protecting and developing these resources of a civilized community. We ought not to be less enlightened than our neighbors.

EUTHANASIA FOR DEGENERATES.

Judge Johnston has sentenced a man to a life term in the penitentiary for criminal assault. The punishment is severe than is usually meted out for this offense, and yet it falls short. That is not the fault of Judge Johnston, who deserves approval for going as far as the law allowed. The law needs amendment.

The crime in question has, of course, degrees, like the crime of murder. There is a technical offense where, in fact, consent may not be lacking but where the law does not recognize that defense because of the youth of the victim. Where the culprit is also immature a mitigation of the offense may exist and no extreme penalty be inflicted. Such cases should be placed in a special category.

But criminal assault in the first degree should receive the extreme penalty. It stamps the offender as not only unfit to be at large but unfit to live. His moral defect is so fundamental that he can have no place in society.

To send such defectives to the penitentiary is inadequate and insufficient. The state should not be charged with their support for years. Their escape is possible. Their parole or release through influence is possible, if not probable. As time goes by and their offenses fade in memory resistance to their release is likely to die away. Then they will come out to prey again, perhaps, on the innocent or to perpetrate their own kind.

We are not considering the question of responsibility. The defective may not know clearly that he is doing wrong. He may not be responsible for his condition or for his acts. But that, in our opinion, is irrelevant. A mad dog is not responsible.

Society does not deal practically with the menace of the defective. It not only permits the defective to be at large until he commits an atrocious offense but it permits him to breed his own kind. After he has committed crime it may confine him in an asylum and support him at its own expense, but this ex post facto surveillance is often relaxed. All defectives are dangerous and should be kept under strict control. But if in spite of restraints they commit grave crimes they should be sent to a lethal chamber. They have no place in the world and society should act in its own defense to remove them.

SENNETT'S BEST IS THE BEST.

When Charley Chaplin ran a nail in his foot it was as bad as if Hefetz had lost a finger and it led us to hope that Mack Sennett's little writer will persuade his boss to be very careful in crossing the street. Casualties involving Sennett and Chaplin involve national resources, and if Chaplin is careless we hope Sennett will be careful. If we ever lose one of them it will be bad, no matter which it is, and we prefer it is not Sennett.

When he touches him, as he does in his latest release, The Small Town Idol, it is as high as Chaplin and Sennett works all the time. He produces. His is a Niagara of production, almost like the flood that Dickens used to release.

To name the classics of moving picture comedy would be to name at once three of Chaplin and at least five of Sennett. Chaplin was only half developed in Carmen, but he reached his peak in Shoulder Arms, Easy Street, and The Kid. Sennett was on his heights with Uncle Tom's Cabin, Salome vs. Shenandoah, Married Life, Love, Honor and Behave, and now in The Small Town Idol he has his head wrapped in a cloud.

He has no trouble in running in competition with Chaplin right at this minute when Chaplin is at his best in The Kid. We are half inclined to say that The Small Town Idol is the greatest moving picture ever made. For some time we have been convinced that if Sennett would take D. W. Griffith as George Cohan takes a melodrama or a romance and Josh D. W. within an inch of his life, the United States would laugh so that Europe would hear it.

He is within an inch or so of doing that very thing in The Small Town Idol, but what he needs as a basis is the honest to goodness production of Mr. Griffith to begin on. There's Way Down East if Sennett has no scenario handy. This is just a suggestion to a man who seems to need none. The cussed censor has done something to The Small Town Idol. It may have been inevitable. When Sennett uses all of his girls for scenic effect a censor is likely to think that something must be done about it and so thinking do it.

A censor who would touch this picture would take a whitewash brush to Raphael, but some one must have had the heart to do it. Sennett was going strong with a Babylonian scene which filled one of our ambitions or would have filled it. That ambition was to have Sennett take Griffith's Fall of Babylon and join to it the scene in Salome where the bird drops out the debate by upstating the water tank. You remember the scene. "My Mistake."

HARBORING OLD GRUDGES.

[From the Illinois State Journal.]

The killing of John Tribewasser at Virginia offers a striking example of what comes of cultivating old grudges. Assassination and the desolation of two families is the culmination of what was, in the beginning, some trifling family difference.

It is doubtful whether the original disagreement can now be recalled by the parties to it. Perhaps it was nothing more than a feeling of dislike, the basis for which could not be expressed in words. But the nursing of the grudge, and the fanning of it, led to the most abhorrent of violent crimes.

The disagreement over the will of Mrs. Harding was not the real cause of the shooting. The will offered no occasion for a dispute. It made equal distribution of the small amount of property involved. Objection to Tribewasser as its executor had been removed by his agreement to withdraw. The tragedy was caused by morose, unreasoning cultivation of the feud spirit.

Practically all the bloody neighborhood feuds of the south, carried from year to year and from one generation to another, originated somewhere as did that of the Cass county brothers-in-law. The southern feuds usually are ascribed to the ignorance and savagery of the participants. But here in Illinois we have had several instances of intelligent men killing relatives and associates in business as the result of almost baseless feuds.

It is a dangerous, mind destroying habit, this carrying of grudges and cultivation of grievances. Morbid minds have incited and nerved to murder many men who, under normal conditions, would harm no one.

"A Line of Type or Two" is omitted owing to the illness of B. L. T. Mr. Taylor is suffering from pneumonia. His condition is not considered critical.

U. S. CAN GET YAP AND MESOPOTAMIA RIGHTS

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

PARIS, March 14.—The old school diplomats of Europe are ready to give the United States some of the fruits of the victory. They have never understood why former President Wilson permitted the allies to divide the booty without demanding any of the spoils, besides renouncing any participation in German reparations.

This sentiment is general in Europe, despite President Harding's demand for the reopening of the Yap, Mesopotamia and German cable questions.

United States can obtain one German cable, divide the Yap island rights, and participate equally in the former German Mesopotamia oil concessions if she insists and makes the Tokio, London and Paris foreign offices realize that she is in earnest and means business.

When Mr. Wilson announced that the United States did not want indemnity from Germany the allies construed his statement as meaning that America did not want anything and Premier Lloyd George and former Premier Clemenceau switched the disposition of the cables to a future conference, suggesting that the reparations commission handle the problem. Without an American representative at the conference the cable commission divided the two cables, one to England and one to France, and demanded that the reparations commission ratify the agreement, which was done, and the matter was closed.

Mr. Wilson surrendered Yap to Japan because of the Anglo-Japanese secret agreement of 1915 granting the British colonies the German possessions south of the equator and to Japan those north of it. During the peace conference Mr. Wilson had trouble enough with Japan on Shantung and the equality of peoples clause in the league of nations covenant without risking Japanese hostility and the peace conference by protesting the Yap award.

The Mesopotamia oil rights were grabbed because Mr. Wilson never completed the league, leaving the constitution of the mandate to be framed by the cabinet, who framed them to be the mandate zones became merely colonies. The Mesopotamia question was settled at the San Remo conference when the Turkish treaty was approved. America was not represented at that conference. Lloyd George, Millerand, Nitti, and Venizelos, carved Turkey, not worrying about America because the United States had never declared war on Turkey.

American business men in Europe fervently hope that President Harding will insist on American ownership of the German cable, thus ensuring efficient, rapid transmission and absolute freedom from European censorship or control.

It is pointed out that Great Britain and France can share the other cable or one buy out the other's interest.

Japan can be pressed into surrendering Yap because both France and Great Britain will back the American claims if Washington insists, as both nations are anxious to curry favor with the new administration.

The situation here stands that Japan would hand over Yap, as soon as she saw that the state department meant business, as a proof of her good intentions and conciliatory spirit.

France will not oppose America sharing the Mesopotamia oil concessions because she fears that Great Britain will seize all the petroleum if she (France) remains the sole partner. France trusts Americans, admires American industry, and is anxious to have her interests guarded by the United States as a third President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes revealing America's desire to protect her interests will meet with ready response in foreign chancelleries is the belief held by observers of the situation.

ANOTHER BLOODLESS REVOLUTION FAILS

BY GEORGE SELDES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

BERLIN, March 14.—The remnants of Dr. Kapp's Baltic army, which captured Berlin a year ago, met yesterday in Wittenberg square, unfurled the forbidden monarchist flag, and anti-Semitic swastika banners, and prepared to launch a revolutionary demonstration.

They waved their flags and talked and then waved their flags some more. At noon only 300 monarchists had answered the call. Soon a counter attraction in the form of a crowd of Socialists appeared waving the red flags of the Third International.

The right wing revolutionaries thereupon decided to take action. The order to march was given and away walked the potential revolution into Berlin's wooded suburb.

But the band of thirty Socialists and Communists followed, and behind them came a dozen taxicabs bearing four or five passengers each to report and take photographs of the bloodless march. The appearance of the red bannered crowd made most probable.

"Deutschland Ueber Alles," the Baltic remnants sang. "Workers of the World Unite," sang the Communists.

"Down with the entente commission," shouted the monarchists. "Down with the monarchists," replied the Communists.

And that is about all there was to the monarchist revolution—except one incident. It so happened that the taxi with two Chicago correspondents frequently dashed ahead of the procession in order to obtain photographs. On one occasion the taxi turned into a side street, whereupon the monarchist marchers, not knowing where the leaders intended to start the war, followed.

Then the uniformed leader rushed out taxicab and demanded to know why the photographs were being taken. When informed it was an American paper that was taking the photos the leader saluted and said in English:

"We thought you were enemies."

Then away went the revolution into Grunewald woods.

Meanwhile 10,000 independent Socialists staged a big demonstration outside the former Kaiser's palace, demanding that the British and French Socialists join with the Germans in protesting the entente's occupation and economic punishment. Berlin's entire police and machine guns were out in force and no serious disorder was reported.

TROUBLE SOME BONE SPURS.

HAVE become much interested, Subscriber writes, "in your articles, which have covered a large number of ills to which the human body is heir, but I have not noticed any mention of calcareous spurs, which occur sometimes on the bones of the feet and other times on other parts of the body. And believing that it will be of interest to the public, I ask that you publish something about it. Is there any cure other than an operation? Is the operation dangerous?"

Bony spurs of a sort sometimes develop on the spine, press on nerves, and cause persistent neuritis, sometimes develop around joints, causing some trouble. Within a week of your letter was received I had an article on a supernumerary piece of bone about two inches back of the ball of the foot as a cause of bunions. This explanation of some bunions was recently applied by Dr. J. M. Robinson.

I will take advantage of your letter to open up the subject of surplus bony growths around the ball of the foot as a cause of bunions. Dr. H. A. Robinson of Kenosha holds that bunions result from overgrowth and displacement of the sesamoid bones. The reader who has never heard of the sesamoid bones must have been too young to read at the time of the famous Lutetian trial. At that time the newspapers, by poetry, scientific discussion, gossip, and reprint of testimony in court, popularized the sesamoid.

The sesamoids are small masses of bones which develop in tendon sheaths, connective tissue, and muscle and are unattached to the regular bones. They are irregular in size, shape, and number. In the main they come at pressure points. Through countless centuries of devout kneeling man developed a large one on the knee and this one is commonly known as the kneecap.

Commonly there are two small ones in the ball of the sole under the great toe at the ball of the foot. If one of these slips away from its regular place and gradually travels up between the bones of the ball of the foot it brings about the common form of bunions.

Dr. Robinson and Monahan are agreed that common bunions result from spreading of the bones of the ball of the foot and that what we recognize as a bunion is merely an inflamed pad which has been built up to protect the bone and joint against the rub of the shoe. They agree that people have bunions because their foot bones are built wrong and not because of wearing wrong shoes and socks. They disagree in this:

Dr. Monahan says the force which spreads the bones at the ball is a bone or bone marrow. Dr. Robinson says it is due to the pressure of the shoe. Dr. Robinson says it is due to the pressure of the shoe. Dr. Robinson says it is due to the pressure of the shoe.

NOT REASSURING SYMPTOM.

Mrs. H. R. writes: "Is there such a disease as delusion of the brain that would make a man who loved his wife very deadly so turn against her as to accuse her of wrongdoing, and if so, what would be the best treatment of such a case? Would it be best for him to be under medical treatment, away from home, or do you think a sanitarium would be advisable, or would he probably get worse?"

Delusions are an accepted symptom of brain disorder. If wholly without foundation and at the same time believed in and fairly fixed, delusions are regarded as going a long way toward establishing a diagnosis of insanity. As a rule a person with delusions about members of his family will do better away from home. I could not say what the outlook is. Many persons with fixed delusions and mentally disturbed become quiet under proper treatment and good environmental influences.

COUNTY ACCEPTS $837,096 BIDS FOR ROADS WORK

Contracts Let Here After State Balks at Cost.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

Cook County decided yesterday to proceed with highway construction, despite the rejection nine days ago by Gov. Small of all road bids received by the state. The county commissioners awarded contracts for 19 5/8 miles of aggregate estimated cost of $837,096, including half a mile stretch south of Maywood at a specially agreed price of $19,100.

In shelving the state bids because he thought them too high, Gov. Small said they averaged $27,850 for roads in the northern end of the state and $44,250 for roads in Egypt. The county's bids on 19.3 miles totaled $817,996, an average of $42,382. The roads which Cook county built last year cost $400 more per mile, the average being $42,782.

Roads to Be Built.
The individual awards made yesterday may be summarized as follows: Touhy avenue, 4.6 miles; low bid $299,736, average per mile, $45,500.

One Hundred and Eleventh street, 7.74 miles; low bid $319,171, average per mile, $41,200.
Desplaines River road, 4.06 miles; low bid $176,601, average per mile, $43,489.

Glenview road, 2.9 miles; low bid, $112,482, average per mile, $38,750.
The board ordered the superintendent to obtain bids on $2,000,000 of road bonds, which the commissioners intend to sell to pay for construction work.

Vote on Awards.
That was the lineup on the award of contracts, except on the Desplaines River and Maywood roads. All except McKinley voted for the Maywood road, and Murray voted with the majority on the Desplaines River road. Otherwise the votes for the roads were: Commissioners Burg, Buesse, Fitzgerald, Mackay, Nowak, Pierson, Wheelan, and Ryan. Against the awards: Commissioners Carlson, Goodnow, McKinley, and Murray.

North Oxford, Mass., March 14.—The North Oxford homestead of Clara Barton was transferred today by Carl O. Carlson to the Woman's National Missionary society of the Universalist church, which is to restore the place and make it a memorial home to be used as a resort for visitors.

All available relics of Miss Barton's Red Cross work are to be gathered from all parts of the world and made a part of the memorial.

KIDNAPED

Aunt Claims Father Stole Child She Refused to Surrender to Him.

VIRGINIA GOTSCH.

Elio Gotsch, a chauffeur living at 73 West Chicago avenue, is charged with kidnaping his 3 year old child, Virginia, in a petition for a writ of habeas corpus filed yesterday. Since her mother died two and a half years ago Virginia has lived with her aunt, Mrs. Karan Hansen, 1223 South State street. Mrs. Hansen returned with the child recently from a trip to Europe and placed Virginia in the care of Mrs. Florence Sharp, 2135 Berteau street. On March 9 the father kidnaped the child near the Sharp home, the petition states.

YOUNG DODGE TO GET $2,000,000 BY SETTLEMENT

Wins Fight on Will of His Father.

Detroit, Mich., March 14.—[Special.]—John Duval Dodge, son of the late John F. Dodge, multimillionaire automobile manufacturer, today learned that he will receive $2,000,000 of the $30,000,000 estate left by his father.

When told of the fortune to be his, he declared it was his intention to keep at work.

"I'm going to keep on making money," he said. "This is just my starting point."

Son Cut Off in Will.
In his will John Dodge Sr. made liberal allowances for all his relatives except John, who had become estranged from his father some months before and was living in Texas. He was left only $1,800 a year. The will was thrown into litigation, resulting in the $2,000,000 settlement on the son which was announced today. It was reported that a reconciliation between father and son was near when the father's death occurred.

The Provision.
In explanation of the nominal annuity settled on his son, Mr. Dodge made the following specification in his will, which was executed April 4, 1918: "To pay to my son, John Duval Dodge, the sum of $150 each month during his life. The provisions I have made in this will for my son, John Duval Dodge, have been made after careful thought and deliberation on my part; uninfluenced by any person or persons whatsoever, and I believe these provisions to be the most wise I can make for my son John Duval Dodge."

Secretly Married.
In April, 1918, it became known that young Dodge had married secretly Miss Marie Anne O'Connor of Detroit. After the wedding, John Jr. lived with friends in an apartment and worked as an army captain in the ordnance department in his father's factory until his departure for Texas.

150,000 FACE SCRAMBLE TODAY TO PAY U. S. TAX

Slap On Penalties at Midnight.

When 300 clerks in the income tax bureau at the federal building stopped work last night there still remained approximately 150,000 individuals and corporations in Chicago that had not paid taxes.

Charles M. Callner, chief of the income tax division, estimates that before midnight tonight—the final closing hour—all but 20,000 of these will have filed their schedules.

Collect Less Revenue.
Estimates prepared by Mager and Callner show that while the number of income blanks filed this year will approximate 500,000, or 75,000 more than were filed last year, the total amount of revenue collected will be less.

Last year, according to Mager, the first payments of income taxes totaled nearly $30,000,000. At the close of yesterday's registration the department had received $8,000,000 less than in the corresponding day of last year.

M. E. Ministers Oppose Boxing Bills; O. K. Landis

By unanimous vote the Methodist preachers of Chicago voiced opposition to the four boxing bills now pending in the state legislature, and passed a resolution of confidence in the honesty and integrity of Federal Judge Landis. The action was taken at the weekly meeting in the First Methodist church, Clark and Washington streets, of which the Rev. John Thompson, D. D., is the pastor.

RUSSIAN ARMIES POISED FOR DRIVE AGAINST POLAND

Investigator Identifies 57
Red Divisions.

BULLETIN.
STOCKHOLM, March 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Afton-Bladet's Riga correspondent says today that from eighteen to twenty bolshevik divisions with artillery and an aviation corps are advancing against Poland in the districts of Smolensk, Vitebsk, Orsha, Mohilev, and north of those places.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

COBLENZ, March 13.—Important information regarding the disposition of Red Russia's armies along the western frontier was made available to THE TRIBUNE correspondent here today from an official source.

It was revealed that the 3d, 6th, 14th, and 16th Russian armies, totaling twenty-three divisions, supported by artillery, cavalry, and other units, have been identified as participating in two most important concentrations. Eight divisions of reserves are concentrated in the Kiev area, and thirteen other divisions, whose army organizations are unidentified, are known to be supporting the four armies mentioned.

Eight Cavalry Divisions.
Eight cavalry divisions are known to be located along the western front, but as yet only four have been observed—one of them in the Pripiet marshes.

The source of information declares that it is known definitely that a grand total of fifty-seven divisions were concentrated on March 1 between Petrograd and Odessa.

Only two divisions of armed troops have been located in Turkestan, but more are believed to be there. There also is one division in Siberia and one in north Russia.

The definite disposition of the Russian forces shows that concentrations are heaviest before Vilna and Lemberg, with but few troops on the Polish eastern frontier.

Between Petrograd and the important railway center, Veliki-Luki, there are two divisions of the 3d army and two unidentified divisions.

The main force of the 3d army is concentrated between Veliki-Luki and Lemberg, with advance headquarters at Mohilev and general headquarters at Minsk.

Vilna Faces Strong Force.
Thus the forces threatening Vilna now total between twenty and twenty-five divisions. They were under the command of Gen. Touchevskii on March 1.

It is probable that several divisions have been temporarily removed to the Petrograd area during the last two weeks to assist in fighting the revolutionists in that territory.

Along the Polish eastern frontier in the Yampol section only one division of frontier guards has been identified. Heavy concentration of Red troops begins again near the Yampol area.

From there to Odessa, facing the Roumanian armies across the Dniester river, are the 14th and 16th armies, nine divisions of infantry, supported by at least three cavalry divisions, and five infantry divisions whose army organization is unknown.

The headquarters of the 14th are at Iuzan and the 16th's at Odessa, with advance general headquarters at Yampol. It is believed the 6th's advance headquarters are at Yampol, which must not be confused with the former city. Yampol is almost due east of Lemberg. Yampol is on the Dniester, southwest of Uman.

The disposition of the four divisions which haven't been located is believed to be between Kiev and Lemberg. Between seventeen and twenty-one divisions are in position to attack on the Galician frontier, with the support of the reserves in the Kiev area.

BANK OF KINDNESS

Draw a Check on It for the Unfortunate.

BY REV. G. A. MACWHORTER.
The Mothers' Relief association, an organization that assists in the care of dependent mothers who are more than 75 years old will hold its annual meeting and luncheon on Thursday at Hotel La Salle. Mrs. Frank E. Marston, vice president, is assisting in the arrangements.

Presidents of about twenty-five women's clubs in Chicago are expected to attend. Little Miss Patsy Kraftner-in-law, 4 years old, classic dancer, will entertain the guests.

Another opportunity is given the Bank of Kindness to be of service. We refer to the pitiful plight of Mrs. Ruth Ballard, 21 year old mother of three children, deserted by her husband and threatened with eviction from her third floor "home" at 2637 West North avenue. Of course, we will not stand by and see her put into the street with her 4 year old Marjorie, 2 year old Robert, eight months old Clarence, and her mother-in-law. Send your contributions for "Mrs. Ballard," in care of the Bank of Kindness and they will be promptly forwarded.

A check for $5 from D. H. Martin, and a $2 bill from "I. S. S.", have already been received for Mrs. Ballard. It will not take many more such contributions to pay the three months back rent, buy some coal, establish a few weeks' credit at the grocery store, and tide this little family over a crisis. "It's a great old world after all."

DENIES ERROR IN GIVING O'CONNOR
OLD PIT RIGHTS

J. P. Griffin, president of the Chicago Board of Trade, yesterday denied there had been anything irregular in the reinstatement to membership of David O'Connor. He was expelled in December, 1919, after his conviction of assaulting 15 year old Irene Meyers.

"Mr. O'Connor was not expelled for breaking the rules," Mr. Griffin said. "but because it was thought he was a criminal. But the Supreme court reversed the case, and in the eyes of the law he is an innocent man."

Rumors on the Board of Trade said O'Connor's membership, worth nearly $7,000, was to be sold to pay the fees of a criminal lawyer. Attorney Robert E. Cantwell, who defended Mr. O'Connor, denied this.

TROTSKY TO CUT KRONSTADT FROM SOURCE OF FOOD

Red War Chief Decides
Upon Blockade.

LONDON, March 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Leon Trotsky, the Russian soviet war minister, according to advices received here today, has decided to blockade Kronstadt despite the fact that this will entail great suffering to the 8,000 women and children in the town.

The reason for Trotsky's unwillingness to bombard the town is the presence of the warship Petropavlovsk, which he is anxious to retain intact, the advices said.

Soviet Holds Fortress.
COPENHAGEN, March 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Advices from Helsingfors today state that the fortress of Krasnaya Gorka has been recaptured from the Russian revolutionaries by soviet troops and the garrison now consists chiefly of a cadet corps.

Leon Trotsky, the soviet war minister, has ordered big howitzers to Oranienbaum, on the Gulf of Finland opposite Kronstadt, after executing M. Kolesov, chief officer of the flying station, and forty-four other rebels, the advices say.

The Moscow uprising is reported to have been quelled after the severest street fighting.

Conditions in Kronstadt are said to be serious, owing to lack of food, none having been received from the American Red Cross or the Finnish relief depots. Because of the large civilian population, which includes 700 children, the garrison's rations are extremely scanty.

KAISER LEAGUE CONTRADICTED BY WITTE MEMOIRS

Show William Planned to Leave Out France.

New York, March 14.—The former German emperor's proposal for a league of nations, described in his book written with the object of showing that Great Britain was responsible for the world war, excerpts of which have been cabled from The Hague, is definitely challenged and contradicted in the forthcoming memoirs of Count Witte, the noted Russian statesman.

The former German emperor asserts that he proposed a league of nations consisting of the triple alliance and the French and Russian alliance, and this proposal was accepted by the Russian emperor and Count Witte.

After detailing in an earlier chapter proposal of the German emperor for an offensive economic alliance between Russia and Germany against the United States, Count Witte refers to his so-called league of nations proposal.

Subject Broached by Kaiser.
In 1905 Count Witte saw the German ruler on his way to Russia, after negotiating the treaty of Portsmouth, and their talk assumed a serious aspect.

"Having referred briefly to my audience at Portsmouth," says Witte, "he turned to the general political situation in Europe and reverted to our Peterhof conversation. I reiterated my profound belief in the desirability of a general rapprochement of the three main bodies politic of Europe: Russia, Germany, and France, this rapprochement tending to become a closer union; which, of course, would be joined by other European powers."

Overjoyed at Plan.
"Delivered from the burden of military expenditures, Europe would be enabled to create a mighty naval force which would dominate the world. His majesty assured me that he shared my views, and then declared that my scheme had finally been carried into effect at his meeting with Emperor Nicholas at Bjorkoe."

"Having imparted to me this extraordinary piece of news, his majesty asked me whether I was satisfied with this development, and in my innocence I replied that his words had filled my heart with joy. We parted."

Then Visits St. Petersburg.
Upon his arrival in St. Petersburg (Petrograd) Count Witte had an interview with Emperor Nicholas. "His majesty told me," writes the count, "that he had received a letter from Emperor William, in which the German sovereign spoke of me in admiring terms. He was glad, he added, that I shared the views which were the foundation of his agreement with Germany, concluded at Bjorkoe. The text of this mysterious agreement, however, his majesty did not show me."

"The next day I met Count Lamsdorff, our minister of foreign affairs."

He asked me, his voice vibrant with uncontrolled indignation:

Disillusioned.

"Did you really approve of the Bjorkoe compact?"

"I replied in the affirmative and proceeded to unfold my views on the desirability of an entente between Russia, Germany, and France, when he interrupted me, saying:

"But have you read the Bjorkoe treaty?"

"I confessed that I had not, whereupon he handed me the text. The substance of the agreement was that Germany and Russia obligated themselves to defend each other in case of war with any other European power (including France). Russia pledged itself to make every effort to assist France over to this union, but whether or not this result was attained the agreement between the two countries was, nevertheless, valid."

It was through the influence of Count Witte and Count Lamsdorff that the treaty was eventually abrogated.

HUGHES' LATEST PANAMA NOTE BAR TO LEAGUE

Opens Way to Settlement of Boundary.

Washington, D. C., March 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—A new basis of negotiations, believed by officials of the state department to be acceptable to both Panama and Costa Rica in settlement of their boundary dispute, was outlined in a note dispatched to Panama today.

The note is considered by diplomats here to have dealt a death blow to any possibility that the league of nations might be called on to act in the question.

It replies to Panama's vigorous protest against Secretary Hughes' announcement that the arbitral award of Chief Justice White must be put into effect in its entirety. While adhering to the previous declaration regarding the Pacific end of the boundary, it opens the door to amicable settlement by agreeing to discuss further the Atlantic end.

The treaty of 1915, signed by the three powers and negotiated by William Jennings Bryan, then secretary of state, as a means of safeguarding American interests in Panama, was cited in the note.

The policy of the Harding administration in dealing with the Latin American countries will be "to promote by cooperation the common interests of all," Secretary Hughes declared today in an address at a luncheon given by the Pan-American union to a group of representatives from Latin America.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—Pimples—a bilious look in your face—full eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by tuning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 50c.

S. MUST KEEP MS READY, VIEW GEN. HARBORD ARGUES 'CUSSING' BY DYING MAN BARS STATEMENT

Gen. James G. Harbord, chief of staff of the A. E. F., is not in of disapproval. Yesterday the general, who is here as the guest of Gen. Charles G. Dawes, characterized the United States as the owner of the building on all sides of which fire rages, and asked if the fire insurance would be canceled.

There are rumors of serious trouble in the Orient, there are wars waging near east, and while our country is not threatened at present, I see that our surroundings are as to make us lay aside our arms.

"Safety," he said. "Danger may be serious and threatening, at any time."

Joseph Carville, acquitted a few months ago for murder, gained his freedom again yesterday when another murder charge growing out of the killing of William Tynan was ordered stricken from the docket. In the first case he was charged with killing William "Jobby" Hurley.

Attorney W. W. O'Brien, who defended Carville in both cases, made a unique point when the Tynan case was first argued. He declared that Tynan's dying statement was inadmissible as the dying man had used numerous oaths in making it. Attorney O'Brien argued Tynan could not have used such language if he were in a state of mind to meet his Maker.

Your Own Music

The Never-Ending Fascination of the GRADUOLA Tone Control

Holding with your fingers the Graduola tone control of the Vocalion, and playing your favorite pieces just as you think they should be played, is a thrill which is always new. The Graduola operates the "throat" of the Vocalion, allowing instant changes from loud tones to the faintest whisper. With it, dance music has more witchery, the voice is more human, and a march has more military zeal. It has that fascination of "doing it yourself"—just as you like to play a player-piano yourself, or drive your own motor car yourself. The variations you can produce with the Graduola are at times "breath-taking," and you have formed a most pleasant habit that grows. You'll agree that the

Science Proves the Danger of Bleeding Gums

Medical science proves that unhealthy gums cause serious ailments. People suffering from Pyorrhea (a disease of the gums) often suffer from other ills, such as rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders, or weakened vital organs. These ills have been traced in many cases to the Pyorrhea germs which breed in pockets about the teeth.

Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea. It begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhea germs.

Guard your health and your teeth. Keep Pyorrhea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and make daily use of Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean.

RUSH BILLS TO STOP DUMPING OF ALIEN GOODS

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., March 14.—(Special.)—A decision was reached today to rush through both houses of congress an anti-dumping bill and a measure providing for the levying of ad valorem duties on the domestic valuation instead of on the foreign basis of valuation, as at present.

These two measures are designed to give emergency protection to American manufacturers, the former by preventing foreign manufacturers from dumping goods in this country below the cost of production and the latter by eliminating the advantage given to foreign goods by reason of the present exchange situation.

A permanent tariff bill will be drafted at once by the house ways and means committee.

The program was considered at a conference attended by Republican members of the senate finance committee and of the house ways and means committee. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and a half dozen treasury experts also were present.

Conference with Harding.
The decision of the conference was definite in so far as the abandonment of the temporary tariff was concerned, and also in the case of the anti-dumping bill and the change in basis of valuation.

As to the precedence of the permanent tariff bill and the measure revising tax laws a definite decision will be announced tomorrow following a conference between Senator Penrose, chairman of the senate finance committee, and Representative Fordney, chairman of the house ways and means committee, and President Harding.

To Consider Tax Legislation.
The senate finance committee, according to the plans of Senator Penrose, will hold some hearings on tax legislation while the house is working on the tariff. The two measures are likely to be finally enacted into law about the same time.

The change in basis of valuation is in accordance with the views of Republican members of the ways and means committee as formulated as a result of the recent tariff hearings.

Program Includes Soldiers' Bonus Bill.
The soldiers' bonus bill, a collateral issue, is to be a part of the Republican fiscal program, Senator Penrose and Representative Fordney announced. Financial requirements of the government for adjustment of compensation to former service men, were included in the estimates considered at the conference.

"What'll We Name It?"

Some years ago an advertising man stopped one of his clients from advertising "second hand cars" and instead offered to the public a selection of "used cars."

The phrase was new, simple and obviously better. In this instance, every one in the trade grabbed the expression and robbed its progenitor of his little distinction.

The best toothbrush on the market has a name that is the hardest for the public to spell or to pronounce.

And yet the late Senator Tillman used to quote, "you might as well kill a dog as give him a bad name."

If you are contemplating advertising now or in the future, experience counsels that you secure the advice of a competent advertising agent before you name your package; even before you put your goods in a package or before you commit yourself to any method of presentation that you may ultimately regret.

RECOGNITION OF TINO BY U. S. IS EXPECTED SOON

Washington, D. C., March 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Recognition of the Greek government of King Constantine by the United States is expected to result shortly from active negotiations instituted by that government with the state department through the Greek legation here.

Letters from King Constantine and Queen Mother Olga, it became known today, containing formal announcement of the ascension to the throne of the king, have been transmitted to the department by the legation. One of the obstacles to recognition, it was said by department officials of the last administration, was the lack of receipt from the king of this formal notification.

In addition, the Greek government has presented the state department with a declaration made to the American minister at Athens by the Greek premier in which the new Greek government has acknowledged all obligations incurred by the government of Venizelos, particularly its foreign loans.

Included in the plan of the Greek government for recognition has been an appeal to the United States for payment of the fourth installment of the loan from the credit of $45,000,000 granted the Venizelos government by the United States treasury. Under this credit cash advances of $15,000,000 were made by the Wilson administration.

It is now believed that recognition will be accorded through the appointment of an American minister. Edward Capps, minister appointed by Wilson, made this post vacant today by his departure for America.

"You Don't Drink Enough Water!"

Physicians say that very few people drink enough water. The older you are, the greater the need for more water. Water is more than a thirst-quencher; it is physiologically a food—a regulating food for cleansing and purifying the whole system.

If it is important to drink enough water, it is doubly important to drink pure water. A really pure water is: first, that which contains no animal or vegetable matter (with their accompanying disease germs); secondly, that which contains no appreciable mineral salts, such as lime. And no public supply meets such a standard of purity.

As shown by Government reports, Paradise Water is unequalled in purity. It contains no insubstantial matter, and less than one grain of mineral matter in a gallon of 58,372 grains! Paradise Water is, therefore, highly solvent; it has the power of absorbing the poisonous wastes of the human system, and flushing them out.

The constant and plentiful use of Paradise Water greatly facilitates the normal functioning of all organs, especially the stomach, intestines and kidneys. With the latter, this is vital for people beyond middle life, by tending to ward off hardening of the arteries.

Put up in quarts, pints and half-pints. Natural or Carbonated. Try a case.

Your Grocer or Druggist has Paradise or can get it for you.

NORTH DAKOTA JUDGES UNDER FIRE IN RECALL

Foes of Nonpartisans Be- gin Movement.

Fargo, N. D., March 14.—[Special.]—North Dakota's acute political and financial situation created under the control of the state government by the Nonpartisan league reached a new stage today with the circulation of recall-petitions. Three justices of the state Supreme court, and five state officials, all elected with Nonpartisan league endorsement, are objects of the proposed referendum.

Still another development today, complicating both the political situation and the financial affairs of the Nonpartisan league, was the filing of voluntary receivership proceedings by the Consumers' United Stores company. This concern was organized by the Nonpartisan league. It has collected about two million dollars from farmers and operated twenty-seven retail stores. W. G. Johnson, secretary treasurer of the company, was appointed receiver by Judge Moellering of the District court.

To Protect Stockholders.
The bankruptcy action was taken by the company to protect stockholders, according to Mr. Johnson. He said that assets were listed at $981,000, but that most of this was in the form of notes from stockholders who were unable to pay at present. He said that less than $300,000 had been paid in. Liabilities are "not over $300,000," according to the petition filed at Minot, which states that a "little over $100,000 is owing to the Scandinavian American bank of Fargo and about $12,000 to the People's State bank of Grand Forks."

A hearing will be held before Judge Moellering at Minot on April 9. Circulation of the recall petitions today followed widely signed petitions for initiating a group of seven laws aimed at definitely closing the Bank of North Dakota, and severely restricting the so-called industrial program undertaken by the state in compliance with the platform of the Nonpartisan league. These proposed laws would be voted upon along with the recall election.

Foes Call Convention.
A convention of the coalition forces opposed to the Nonpartisan league will be held at Don Lake on March 30 and 31. The call for it issued today, shows the chairman of the Republican and Democratic state central committees joining in the movement. Should it be determined at the convention not to hold the recall election, which becomes compulsory on the filing of petitions signed by 30 per cent of the number who voted for governor in the last general election, the initiated laws would not be voted upon until the primary election of June, next year.

JUDGE REFUNDS $1,665,000 TAX TO PALMER ESTATE

Federal Judge Page yesterday ruled the government should return $1,665,000 collected as federal inheritance tax from heirs of the estate of Mrs. Potter Palmer. Suit to recover this amount was filed last June by Mrs. Palmer's sons, Honoré and Potter Palmer Jr.

Judge Page held the taxes were collected upon that part of the estate which was merely held in trust by Mrs. Palmer, and which had been left before the government began collecting inheritance taxes. The situation, he said, was virtually the same as in the Kate Field case, decided against the government by the Supreme court. The government contended that when Mrs. Palmer died the trust estate, $7,000,000, or half of the entire estate, automatically became part of her property. The government will appeal the decision.

North Shore post will hold its business session Friday night in the Broadway armory, Broadway, at Thorndale avenue. Vice Commander Francis A. Walsh will report.

How Used Cars Are Sold in Chicago

Vast amounts of money have been spent by Chicago dealers and private owners to discover the best method of disposing of used Autos.

Each year the verdict is more emphatically in favor of the Want Ad section of The Chicago Tribune. This is the market place without an equal. The chart below shows Used-Car Want Ad lineage in The Tribune each year since 1912. The shaded section of each column represents The Tribune's lead over its nearest competitor—an evening paper.

Dominance in this type of advertising is directly due to results produced day in and day out—year in and year out. The Chicago Tribune is able to produce satisfactory results with unfailing regularity for three reasons:

1. Largest circulation both Daily and Sunday.
2. Predominance of auto-buying classes among its readers.
3. A vast public awake to the advantages of daily use of Tribune Want Ads.

The following table shows how conclusively the Chicago public has voted for The Tribune as the best medium for disposing of used cars:

Lineage of Used Car Want Ads in The Chicago Tribune—Black section represents volume in excess of that printed by nearest competitor—an evening paper.

Taking 25,000 Partners

WITHIN a few weeks the employees of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) will be given an opportunity by the Company to buy shares in the capital stock of this organization under conditions which are distinctly favorable to the employee.

This stock is to be paid for from the employees savings running over a period of five years.

At the end of that time it is believed that the men actively engaged in conducting the business of this corporation will be possessed of a substantial interest in the business.

This is but one other step which the Company has taken to make mutual the interests of those who are engaged in its activities and those who by the investment of their capital have made these activities possible.

It is this spirit of fairness ever dominant in the minds of the management which has enabled the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to gather an organization of enthusiastic, efficient, thoughtful and conscientious men and women who are devoting themselves to the betterment of that complete cycle of service which the Company is rendering the public.

To give you the service you are entitled to receive and which it is the Company's wish to render, every employee realizes that infinite pains must be taken with every step leading up to the transaction.

The Company believes that by making the active employees partners in the business, another step has been taken to achieve that perfection of service toward which we are striving.

BOSSY NEEDN'T FEAR "COWLESS" MILK IN CHICAGO

Doctors Don't Warm Up to Boston Made Brand.

"Old Bessie is still the best milk manufacturer, in my opinion," Health Commissioner Robertson declared yesterday in discussing the report from Boston that "cowless" or synthetic milk is being made from peanuts, oats, and water.

"A half dozen substitutes, several of which are chemically almost the same as milk, have been manufactured," the commissioner added. "Pitted against cow milk in feeding tests, however, they generally fall down."

"If synthetic milk is used, vitamins in the form of fruit juices, usually of oranges or lemons, must be supplied. If the public could be educated to balance vegetable milk with vitamins, synthetic milk would be a success."

Kilcourse Gives His Views.

The public abhors a substitute as nature does a vacuum," said James P. Kilcourse, head of the city food inspection bureau. "That is the reason that, thus far, vegetable milks have not been a financial success."

Dr. R. G. Timms of the health department laboratory, explained that proteins, fats, sugar, and water are the principal ingredients of cows' milk and that peanuts are 25.8 per cent protein, 38.4 per cent fat, 24.4 per cent sugar and starch. The chief ingredients of oats was given as proteins, 14.1 per cent; sugar and starch, 67.09 per cent, and moisture, 6.9 per cent.

Nothing Equal to Cow's Milk.

The romance started seventy years ago when he used to carry her books to and from the old Dearborn school, at Madison and State streets. Later they taught school in the same town in Michigan—Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Stender.

Today they are planning to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary at the home of their daughter, Mrs. H. E. Hallock in South Haven, Mich., Friday. Both read THE TRIBUNE since 1857, when it was known as the Press and Tribune. Mrs. Stender is the daughter of the historian, Bancroft.

Mr. Stender started a saddlery company in Chicago about sixty years ago. Since then he has become internationally known as a maker of military leather equipment. They live at 303 Hamilton avenue. Mr. Stender has been identified with the Masonic fraternity for fifty-five years.

The romance still lives.

A similar view was expressed by Maj. L. M. Wilbur, surgeon at the U. S. Marine hospital.

CITY HALL BOOSTS FAITHFUL AIDS FOR JUDGESHIPS

Nine Republican judges of the Circuit court are slated for retirement if the Thompson-Lundin forces win their fight for control of the Republican judicial convention.

Already a dozen names are being mentioned for the nine places now occupied by judges whom the city hall leaders plan to keep off the ticket. Among those boosted for the Circuit bench are Assistant Corporation Counsel James W. Breen, Charles E. Peace, and Eugene H. Dupee, Municipal Judge John Richardson, Edward S. Day, and Frank D. Ayers, assistant attorney for the school board.

In the Superior court, Judge Theodore Brentano, the only judge whose term expires this summer, is slated for renomination, according to city hall lawyers who are framing the Thompson judicial slate.

CHIEF PROMOTES COP WHO KILLED BANDIT IN DUEL

For killing a burglar in a pistol duel on the roof of the Hub theater at 1744 West Chicago avenue Monday morning, Chief Fitzmorris promoted Patrolman William R. V. Schultz to a sergeant.

"The promotion is temporary, but I intend to give Schultz so high an efficiency rating in the forthcoming promotion examination for patrolmen that it will become permanent," the chief said. "His act was one of the most noteworthy in police department history."

Leut. Willard Malone's report to the chief telling of the pistol battle in which Henry Mielke, 18, of 2033 Courtland street, was killed, says Schultz was hanging by his right hand from the wall of the theater and was forced to fire with his left hand during the battle.

The Spring Exposition

Being a Brilliant Display of All that Is Newest in HOUSE FURNISHINGS, APPAREL, and ACCESSORIES of DRESS

NEW COSTUMES
IN AN ANTIQUE SETTING

THE Frock of gray lace and Suit of gray tricotine, were photographed in a paneled Georgian room imported from England and set up in our Interior Decorating Room on the Fifth Floor. The massive, richly carved fireplace is a fit background for the finest of apparel—it suggests a mingling of those decorative arts which consider both woman and her environment.

The Furnished Rooms Open New Vistas to Encourage Seekers of Beautiful Furnishings

THE FURNISHED ROOMS form a concrete expression of the power of our Home Furnishing Sections to present authoritative groupings of the newest and best of decorations and furnishings for the home.

Roaming through them this week one will find many a novelty, many a suggestion that will prove helpful. The quaint turned spindles of one Bedroom Suite (Room No. 17), the charming Colonial Living Room (No. 23), the "perfectly darling" Child's Room (No. 9), and a long list of others will tell their story of the new season.

All parts of the Home Furnishing organization share in the success of the Rooms—for they are planned by our decorators, the curtains made in our own workrooms; the Furniture, the pictures, the china, glassware, objets d'art, are all chosen from one or another of the Sections devoted to the interests of the home.

Artwares, China, Lamps and Glassware

FROM the "Tree of Heaven" at one end of the Second Floor, Wabash, played upon by bright lights and flanked by attendant goddesses of stone and bronze, to the dignified "Plate Room" at the end, is a continuous avenue of delightful sights.

In the Artwares Section there are the Ship Models, Garden Furniture for the new season, and Artwares from France and other parts of Europe. The new Antique Rooms are open, with a charming arrangement of interesting wares.

In the Lamp Section there is a rich glow from hundreds of dainty new Shades, and the gleam of a great concourse of new Lamps. The intimate little French, Italian and Oriental Rooms have been refurnished completely. There is inspiration in the Lamp Section.

New Plates of great interest are to be found in the Plate Room, and the Wedgwood Room, Lenox Room and Tea Set Room have freshly attractive displays in the China Section.

Colored Glass, made in America, in designs and color-combinations never before attained in this country, form an interesting show in the Glassware Section. There are new Table pieces which open up new ideas of decoration.

In the Rug Sections

HERE new bales of rich, soft Chinese Rugs have been opened, and the Rugs spread out in a vivid aggregation of harmonious tones. Typical colors—the reds, blues, yellows, buffs, which make the Chinese Rug inimitable—form a background for motifs which have been selected and fitted to an occidental sense of harmony and good decoration. They are Rugs made in China from our own designs.

In the Domestic Rugs Section an interesting semi-theatrical display has been made to show the best points of the thoroughly fine Rugs shown here—many of which are the products of our own looms.

Hand-blocked Linens Are Good This Spring

Rich, beautiful effects are given by hand-blocked Linens in the hangings in Room No. 2, in the Wabash Avenue series, on the Eighth Floor. This thought is further developed in the displays on the Fifth Floor, of bright, large-patterned printed linen and cotton fabrics, in gay colors. These are supplemented with silks of brightly contrasting colors.

So Many New Displays in the Artwares Section!

Ship models against a background of fish-nets; Garden Furniture of stone or iron against a border of vivid hollyhocks; and a whole aisle full of French importations in Statuary, Pottery, Porcelains and such wares.

DAVIS 'FORCED' TO TAKE VACATION, TENANTS CHARGE

Prepare for Tomorrow's Springfield March.

"On to Springfield"

HERE is the program for the "On to Springfield" move of the Chicago Tenants' Protective league:

TONIGHT.
Parade and mass meeting. Parade starts at Wilson and Clifton avenues and moves north in Broadway to Broadway armory at Thornehill avenue, where meeting will be held.

TOMORROW.
12 a. m.—Tenants' special leaves the Union station over the Chicago and Alton for Springfield. All tenants must have badges of the tenants' organization, which will entitle them to travel free on the special.
120 p. m.—Special arrives in Springfield. Tenants parade to capitol.
1 p. m.—Tenants appear before senate and house committees in behalf of Kessinger enabling act, granting authority to city council to establish rent commission to act as arbitrator, with police powers, between landlords and tenants.
4 p. m.—Leave for Chicago on board special train, arriving home about midnight.

Why did Gen. Abel Davis, chairman of the Chicago Real Estate board's anti-rent profiteering committee, require a sudden vacation in Florida while compilation of the committee's "fair rent" schedule was in progress? While final arrangements were being made for the tenants' "on to Springfield" march, officials of the Chicago Tenants' Protective league asked this question at the real estate board last night. In a meeting at the LeMay school, 551 Waveland avenue, the league officials declared they had information on good authority that Gen. Davis was "forced to take a vacation because he had exhibited a real tendency to bring relief to the tenants."

Gen. Davis, they said, hardly had promised to submit the zoning schedule to the tenants' league when his sudden departure was announced. "It is mighty strange he had to leave at that time," said A. E. Jessurun, secretary. "My informant tells me the stockholders of the Chicago Title and Trust company, and the Chicago Real Estate board were thrown into consternation when they heard what he intended to do. A conference with the general and his 'vacation' followed."

"Upon his return did Gen. Davis keep the committee alive and attempt to do anything? No. He hasn't been heard from since."

Huge Rally Tonight.
The league's "grand send-off" rally for the Springfield trip will be held tonight in the Broadway armory. After a parade, which will start at 7:30 o'clock at Wilson and Clifton avenues, the meeting will be called to order by J. E. Patterson, president. Speakers include Senator Harold C. Kessinger, father of the rent commission act pending at Springfield; Edgar A. Jones, assistant state's attorney; Ex-Judge R. E. Turner; W. D. Sallie, assistant corporate counsel; Aid. John Lytle and Secretary Jessurun.

"On to Springfield if it takes the last $14.42 you've got," said President Patterson in his address last night. "The Chicago Real Estate board has had an opportunity to operate and remove that terrible ulcer Chicago is stricken with—exorbitant rents—and it has failed. Now we are going to do it. Calls Tenants to Cover."

"The rent hogs are enlisting every aid to defeat the Kessinger act, which they know will be the deathknell of excessive rents. If it is passed, they will be at Springfield with all the talent money can buy. We must be there in numbers as well as with talent. If we fail to get relief from high rents we must show the legislature we are strong."

Inscriptions on the banners which the tenants will carry tomorrow in their parade from the train to the capitol at Springfield were prepared yesterday. Mayor Thompson is among those who have promised to appear at Springfield in behalf of the Kessinger bill. He will head a party of twenty officials departing for the state capital this morning and will work during the afternoon in behalf of his traction plan. Tomorrow he says he will march with the tenants.

Tenants Win Court Point.
Ordering attorneys for Charles Goble, owner of an apartment building at 1430-32 University avenue, to "show why" his court has authority to grant injunctions against tenants displaying "unfair" signs, Judge Charles M. Foell of the Superior court yesterday continued the hearing of Goble's application for a writ until Thursday. The judge's action was seen as a victory for the cause by leaders of the tenants' league.

Mayor and Aids Line Up Industries for Exposition
Mayor Thompson, Health Commissioner Robertson, and Henry J. Kramer, at dinners last night, sold space for the Pageant of Progress exposition here in August to members of the Chicago Automobile Trades association, the Associated Fur Industries of Chicago, and the Caterers' association.

Henry H. Brigham's Maid Foils Two Confidence Men
Two confidence men were outwitted by a maid in the Glencoe home of Henry H. Brigham, president of the North American Car company, yesterday. They said Mr. Brigham had sent them for "the car." "Just a minute," said the maid politely, and called the police. The men vanished.

Tangled Romance

Mother Fears Young Uncle Has Kidnaped Niece He Sought to Wed.

ROSE GUCITO.

Joe Danna, 24, lived with his sister, Mrs. Mary Gucito, at 460 North Racine. His sister had a pretty daughter, Rose Gucito, 18. Joe fell in love and wanted to marry Rose, but the folks objected because of their relationship.

Last night at the Harrison street station Mrs. Gucito told:

"Rose has been kidnaped. I think Joe Danna did it."

There is an honest stock salesman in Chicago. Leo M. Bach invited stockholders in the American Truck and Tractor corporation up to his office at 108 South La Salle street last night and prepared them for the shock of getting their money back by telling them how foolish they had been to buy the stock. Joseph C. Rice, a "blue sky" investigator from the attorney general's office, was there, too, and displayed a lively interest.

There were tears in Bach's eyes as he told how his conscience had kept him awake nights when he learned he had received a commission of 50 per cent on stock which his partners had sold after he had told them not to. Besides, it is against the state law to take 50 per cent commission for the sale of stock.

Bach said his partners "put it over" by giving him a third of the commission from the sale of 3,400 shares of the stock at $11.75. He was so mad he dissolved the partnership, he said, and the other members of the firm, Capt. B. B. Lipner and H. L. Homel, started in business together. Bach said he would sell the office furniture to pay back his share of the commission about $3,800.

Eighteen stockholders present admitted Bach hadn't sold them the stock they bought at $12.25 a share on promise of 40 per cent dividends.

"You ought to know better than to buy stock that is peddled from house to house," Bach told the stockholders, most of whom were women, a number of them widows. "If it takes you a year to save a thousand dollars, why can't you take a week to investigate before you invest it. There's no such thing as a 40 per cent dividend."

"When are you going to have the stockholders of the Gremm-Bernstein Motor Truck company up?" the attorney general's investigator asked.

"Tomorrow night," Bach said.

"Well, good-night," the investigator said. "Hope you are able to sleep tonight."

NO IMMUNITY FOR WADSWORTH; IS REARRESTED
Guy Wadsworth, former policeman, alleged burglar, and one time pig farmer, will not return to the farm this spring. While he was preparing to depart yesterday, after four cases of burglary and one of murder had been nolle prossed, he learned he had been again indicted.

"Wadsworth was promised immunity by former State's Attorney Ioyne for his testimony against Richard Wilson and Harry Andrae, charged with the murder of Thomas O'Donnell, an aged watchman," said Wm. Scott Stewart, assistant state's attorney. "I don't care what Hoyne promised him. As far as I am concerned, he will receive no immunity."

156 GIZZARDS, OR FOWL PLAY WITH $1,000 DIAMOND

Which of Levine's Hens Has Stolen Jewel?

Among the thirteen dozen inhabitants of Joseph Levine's barnyard at 711 Liberty street there is a fowl whose gizzard frets the Maxwell street police. They have not identified it. They only know that in the dark, unfathomed precincts of one of 156 alimentary canals there nestles amid the alfalfa, grit, and other dietetic notabilia a $1,000 gem of purest ray serene.

While ways and means of recovering it are being discussed, Mr. Levine awaits trial charged with receiving stolen property and, 14 year old Morris Barad of 634 Maxwell street, and 15 year old Philip Epstein of 1345 Peoria street are at the juvenile detention home. None of the fowls has been pinched, but all are incommunicado.

This Match Cost $1,000.
Joseph Shaffer, proprietor of a junk shop at 613 O'Brien street, had the gem, an unset diamond, in his vest pocket. Barad and Epstein sauntered in and asked him for a match. They snatched out and Mr. Shaffer missed the diamond. He hurried to the street. The boys were rounding a corner. He trailed them. He saw them accost Sheehan Miller, Hayes and Sheehan happened along. He enlisted their aid.

"We've got 'em cold," said Miller. "We'll surprise them."
So Mr. Levine and the boys were cautiously surrounded.
"Where's my diamond?" cried Mr. Shaffer.
"Whose diamond?" asked Mr. Levine.
Barad and Epstein began crying.

"We took the diamond," said Barad, "and we showed it to Levine. He said he would buy it for $15. He took it and now he says he hasn't got it."
Chicken Feed Do Luxe.
"I was examining it," said Mr. Levine, "and accidentally dropped it. My chickens," he gestured toward the teeming barnyard, which presented a scene of unusual animation, "are used to having me scatter feed among them. When I dropped the diamond, there was an awful rush. One of them got it. I don't know which one."

"I'll buy all your chickens," cried Mr. Shaffer. "What are they worth?"
Mr. Levine, who deals in poultry, gazed thoughtfully about the barnyard, rubbed his hands briskly, placed them against his breast in a horizontal position, palms upward, tilted his head sharply to the right, and his shoulders deprecatingly.

"O, for you, Mr. Shaffer, a dollar and a quarter each. They are all fancy fliers and broilers. Tender as squabs. The whole bunch 156, to you for $195. I should worry."

Massacre Now Looms.
"You ain't worrying me at all," replied Mr. Shaffer. "I should give you $195 for that collection. There ain't one of them that wouldn't stop a sausage grinder. Fancy fliers, hell. A dollar twenty-five, Mr. Shaffer."

The police ended the dickering by taking Mr. Levine to the station.

"Tomorrow night," the investigator said. "Hope you are able to sleep tonight."

Fires Ordered Out in Anti-Smoke Campaign
"Fires Out" was the command given by deputy smoke inspectors, who dropped into the Hotel Randolph, the Clock building, and the Harmony cafeteria on Randolph, near State street, yesterday. With the possibility of no fire for cooking, the managers of the three places got into telephonic communication with Health Commissioner Robertson. For the Hotel Randolph, Carl Eltel promised that smokeless coal will be used beginning today. Others made similar promises.

Four More Patrolmen Are Suspended by Chief
Four more patrolmen were suspended yesterday by Chief of Police Fitzmorris. He said "dismissals will continue as long as the men make them necessary." Those dropped yesterday, pending hearings before the trial board, were Patrolmen Walter Zimmer, John C. Carroll, and Fred M. Oggsell, accused of intoxication, and Patrolman James A. Scott, charged with failure to "pull his boxes" regularly. Several minor transfer orders yesterday assigned old secretaries to the five captains shifted in Saturday's big shake-up.

O MAN!

The Inquiring Reporter
Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.
Do you believe that the phases of the moon in any way affect plants and animal life?

The Place.
Quincy and State streets.

The Answers.
Arthur Frickley, 1700 South Morgan street, chauffeur—I don't see how it can affect animal or plant life. But if it does, I wish it would also affect some of the employers in Chicago, so we could get a job. I have been out of work for some time, and the moon has changed several times, but without helping me any.

James B. Craig, 1217 Hood avenue, sales manager—I believe that a quarter moon reversed—that is, upside down—is a sign of rain. I know farmers swear by the moon and plant their grain and vegetables according to the moon's phases. As for the moon affecting anything in the city, I don't know about that.

Beulah Smith, 5023 Fulton street, clerk—I have heard the moon has some sort of reaction upon the plants, but I don't know much about the animals. I know a lot of folks who think the moon is a calendar to plant things by. I never heard any one speak of the effect of the moon on seeds after they were planted.

Alex Alton, Evanston Golf club professional—I can't see how the moon can have anything to do with animals, any more than the sun or the winds. Of course, man's disposition may sometimes be affected by the elements, and possibly by the moon, for all I know. But when it comes to the moon having anything to do with plants, I can't see it.

Robert MacCloon, 2231 Calumet avenue, salesman—Years ago people had the idea the moon was a god of plants and animals, but in these days it is a superstition in which people have little credence. It takes rain and sun to make things grow these days and times. Also hope. Not superstition.

GIRLS FOIL $2,290 LOOP THIEF; HAD CONTRACT TOWED

Pursue Robber, Who Throws Away Loot.

Although identified as a robber who attempted to steal a $2,290 pay roll from two girls cashiers in the heart of the loop yesterday, Harry C. Morrison, debonair and well dressed, whose card carries a "Gold Coast" address, sat in a cell at the detective bureau and nonchalantly refused to discuss the affair.

A curious marriage contract and the names and telephone numbers of many girls were in his pockets.

The attempt to steal the pay roll was frustrated by the pluck of the girls, employees of the Famous Players-Lasky company, 845 South Wabash avenue, and Detective Sergeant John Prendergast. The cashiers, Miss Irma Beck, 1146 East Forty-seventh street, and Miss Mary McGranahan, 7939 Harvard avenue, had drawn the money from the Fort Dearborn National bank, and then had entered the Commonwealth Edison company's store.

Pursued by Girls.
As they started to leave Morrison grabbed the money, which was wrapped in a copy of "The Ten Commandments" and tucked under Miss McGranahan's arm. He darted through the revolving doors. The girls chased him down the street, shouting. Prendergast captured Morrison after he had hurled the package behind him, almost into the arms of Miss Beck, who was at his heels. Traffic Policeman Joseph F. Healey aided in the arrest.

At the detective bureau Morrison said he lived at 42 Denning place. On a business card was the inscription: "Sterling Devices Co., 536 Lake shore drive, H. C. Morrison, secretary."

Policemen were unable to locate any such firm at that address.

Strange Marriage Agreement.
The marriage agreement read: "I, Miss Helen Manzell, do hereby agree to marry Harry C. Morrison, Saturday, March 12th, 1921. I sign, Helen F. Manzell."

Morrison said the contract was a joke, but refused to give Miss Manzell's address.

Later the police learned that he was a salesman employed by Walter McGill, 226 South State street, a manufacturer's sales agent. Mr. McGill appeared at the detective bureau with a lawyer. He said he didn't believe the charges.

Morrison carried an uncanceled check for $350 drawn to cash and signed by Tony Duckles.

NINTH AND LAST CHILD QUITS HOME WITHOUT A HEART

Rum and the Rod Bring Desolated Hearth.

BOOZE.
Nine year old Louis Yell, bade his father and mother a long farewell yesterday and cried for a long time. He cried for joy as he thanked Judge George B. Holmes of the Court of Domestic Relations for committing him to the custody of his married sister, Miss Margaret Shattuck, 677 North Dearborn street.

The parents are Daniel Yell, 54 years old, and Nellie Yell, 52 years old, whose home is a one room housekeeping cubicle at 24 West Ontario street. Once they had a larger home and their nine children lived with them. One by one the children left them. Louis is the last to go. They are now alone.

Give His Dinner to Dog.

Louis, a clean, upstanding little fellow, related to the judge in a quite matter of fact way the story of his home life. Every morning before he went to the Holy Name Cathedral school his mother would beat him with the razor strap. Sometimes at dinner, when he was particularly hungry, she would toss his portion of meat to the dog.

When Judge Holmes asked him why his mother was so cruel his reply was:

BOOZE.
"She took me to Milwaukee last April," he said. "I guess they just wanted to get rid of me, because they had me put in an orphan asylum. But my sister, Margaret, heard of it and got me out. Then they heard that she had me and made her give me back to them. They beat me hard, then. I don't remember the time when they didn't drink. Since we've had prohibition, ma takes snuff when she can't get booze."

Children Against Parents.

All the children living in Chicago appeared to testify against the parents. They are, besides Margaret, who signed the complaint, Laura, a sister, who lives with Margaret, and Leo F. Yell, who is married and lives at 17 East Oak street. The father was sentenced to five days and the mother to sixty days in the bridewell.

"It should have been sixty years," said Leo. "Why, when I went overseas to fight for my country, what do you think my goodby was? I wasn't living at home then. I called her up just because she was my mother and because I thought maybe I wouldn't come back. She said, 'Goodby and you. I hope you never come back.'"

Margaret told how Louis, his body bruised and bleeding, had crept up on the porch of her apartment and begged her to protect him. It was then, she said, that she decided to end it all and have her parents arrested.

Neither Margaret, nor Laura, nor Leo ever remembered any home life such as other children enjoyed, they told a reporter. And when he asked them why they answered:

BOOZE.

BOGUS HERO, WHO WON ACCLAIM HERE, DIVORCED

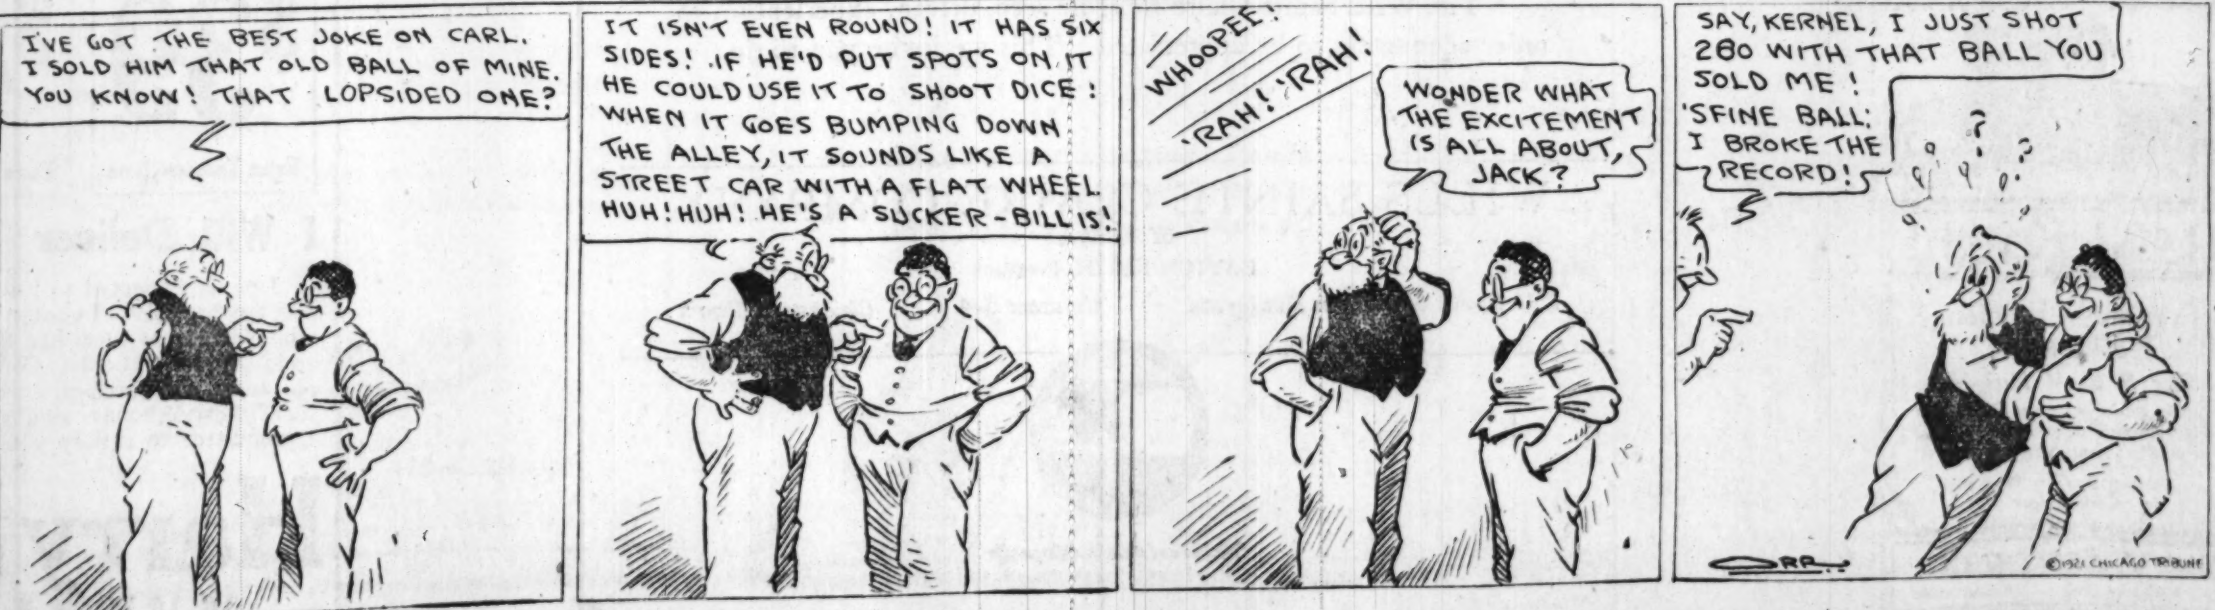

"Capt." Glenwood Tremaine Cummings, who was feted and worshipped as a war hero by Chicago society, in 1917, was divorced yesterday from Mrs. Charlotte Cathrop Cummings in Syracuse.

Mrs. Cummings, a society woman, charged that Cummings had deceived her by posing as a single. She married him December 24, 1920. They met while she was acting as entertainer at the American Levee area on the Riviera.

Cummings posed here as a captain in "his majesty's air flying corps."

Somebody from his home town, Sheffield, Ill., saw him, and then he signed a confession in the Rockford jail that he was a "fake hero."

KERNEL COOTIE—THE LAST DAY OF THE BOWLING TOURNAMENT

THE LAST DAY OF THE BOWLING TOURNAMENT. I'VE GOT THE BEST JOKE ON CARL. I TOLD HIM THAT OLD BALL OF MINE. YOU KNOW! THAT LOPSIDED ONE? IT ISN'T EVEN ROUND! IT HAS SIX SIDES! IF HE'D PUT SPOTS ON IT HE COULD USE IT TO SHOOT DICE! WHEN IT GOES BUMPING DOWN THE ALLEY, IT SOUNDS LIKE A STREET CAR WITH A FLAT WHEEL. HUH! HUH! HE'S A SUCKER—BILL IS! WHOPEE! RAH! RAH! WONDER WHAT THE EXCITEMENT IS ALL ABOUT, JACK? SAY, KERNEL, I JUST SHOT 280 WITH THAT BALL YOU SOLD ME! 'FINE BALL! I BROKE THE RECORD!

Keep Your Fingers Crossed! Old Ben Turpin's in This

"A SMALL TOWN IDOL."

By Mae Tineé.

Mack Sennett has spared neither time nor expense in making this seven-reeler. He has been generous with his comedians, giving each and every one of them plenty of footage. If you don't feel inclined to laugh at Ben Turpin—why, there's Charlie Murray. And if Charlie doesn't affect your risibilities, have a little Phyllis, or Marie or Dot Farley. They're all there, bent on pleasing, and your system must be in awful condition if one or the other of them doesn't win a smile.

Mr. Sennett wrote the story and it is all about one Sam Smith, who after getting in wrong with everybody in his home town, leaves the old place for Los Angeles. Here, he enters the movies. Eric long, through his daring acts the want to die and doesn't care what he does he becomes a cinema favorite. "Two-Gun Sam" he is, and his fame reaches even into the tank town that did him wrong.

Now that he is a great man, they want him back. Mr. Smith obliges. He is greeted with open arms and the town band and they all go to the movie to watch Two-Gun Sam perform. Mr. Turpin, as audience to himself, is vurr-funny.

The jealous villain, however, is still on the trail. He aspires to the hand of the beautiful Phyllis. Phyllis—or Mary Brown—is Sam Smith's girl, you see?

Almost but not quite does Mr. Smith become trussed. Events fast, furious, and more or less humorous lead up to the grand finale.

The Sennett players are all in good form and seem to enjoy themselves immensely. And the audience of which I was one also gave evidence of having a mighty pleasant time.

HAROLD TEEN—SOME MORE WHERE THAT CAME FROM!

CLOSEUPS

Los Angeles, Cal., March 14.—[Special.]—Bebe Daniels is to be tried for speeding March 28. Judge Cox, whom Daniels must face, has put millions in jail.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscript returned.

The Necessary Switch.

My uncle and aunt, with whom I am living, had gone to the theater, and I was entertaining a young man I had only met a day or so before. He was a particular young man and I wished to make a good impression. When we went into the study I tried to turn on the different lights and not one would go on, so I told him to turn on the one little gaslight that barely made it possible to see. He laughed at the time and said he thought it was a put up job on my part, and it bothered me quite a bit, as I knew he would not like it if he thought I did it, and I was the last person on earth to do such a thing. After about an hour my aunt and uncle returned and came in laughing, ready to make fun of me, so I hastily explained how I had tried every light and none would go on. My aunt said she could not understand that and walked over to the switch and immediately every light in the room went on. "I did wish that I was far away, for the laugh was on me and there was no way to prove that I was absolutely innocent." E. L. S.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $1 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Please write on one side of the paper. Address Bright Sayings to Auntie Bee, Tribune, Chicago.

"Well, Dorothy," said her father one Sunday afternoon, "shall we have a walk or ride?"

John was listening to the arguments of his parents over the proposed style of having his curls cut. His mother wanted it bobbed; his father stood out for having it cut short, like a real boy's. John, whose hour of the hour his bald headed Uncle Henry, interrupted with: "Why can't I have it cut nice and shiny like Uncle Henry's?" C. P.

FASHIONS BLUE BOOK

BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—There are lots of good fashions in the sea of fashion, and in order to be convinced of it all one needs do is to review some of the charming cottons and linens now being shown. The fact of it is that the fashions are so becoming a finish for the summer frock that it will always hold its own against the round or boat shaped neck line that so often accompanies the fashionable, simple straight line little frock which they have been wearing in the south all winter. The above shows gray organdy fashions and cuffs to chime in with an English wash of hennas dotted in gray. And do not forget that the summer color list must be somewhat revised this year in favor of the hennas, flamingo, citron color, and brown which are brought out so much in the new summer materials.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Beet Bisque.

Here is a new recipe for those who live in hopes of finding such. As far as I know, it originated with me. It is a cream of beet soup, so made as to resemble, in everything but color, tomato bisque, or mock bisque, to speak more correctly.

Put through the fine knife of a food chopper one small bunch of new beets, after crisping and peeling them. If fresh from the market or well cared for they will not need crisping. Put the grated or ground raw beet into a saucepan with a small piece of butter and a scant teaspoon of salt and heat up quickly; then add a cup, or less may be used, of boiling water.

and served, or the shade becomes dull instead of bright. There is no reason why it should not look as pretty as a tomato bisque, but I can imagine some rather fussy persons disliking its color or appearance, while others would be much interested. When cooking beets a small quantity of beet may be started in a little cold water, soon hot instead of cold. When thus cooked and buttered, beet makes a pleasant vegetable of a fruit red, instead of a magenta.

RAILROADS FAIL TO ATTAIN OWN EFFICIENCY GOAL

BY O. A. MATHER.

What is the operating efficiency of the railroads of the country? With the present war emergency looming up as one of the greatest factors of the general business situation, and with a congressional inquiry into the management of the roads in prospect, the question is particularly pertinent. The operating efficiency of the railroads, and in consequence their earning power, may be roughly determined by their "car miles per car day" and their "net ton miles per car day." The car miles per car day comprise the average number of miles a car covered by the cars of a railroad. Thus, if a road has 100 cars on its lines five days and moves 100 miles, the car miles per car day will be 20 miles. Net ton miles per car day are based on car miles per car day multiplied by the number of tons of freight carried in the car miles.

Where Speed Counts. Obviously the more quickly a road can move cars over its lines the higher will be its car mile average; also the more nearly cars can be loaded to capacity and "empties" eliminated, the higher will be the net ton miles per car day. Therefore these figures together represent operating efficiency. At the time when the railroads were returned to private management an effort was made to move cars on every railroad an average of 20 miles a day. But statistics prepared by the Interstate Commerce Commission on the operating efficiency of the major railroad systems for 1920 show that only nine railroads were able to move their cars 20 miles a day or better.

It is interesting to note that the best results in car movement have been achieved, as a rule, by those roads which are showing the best earnings, and that the roads with poor operating efficiency have been having poor earnings.

Union Pacific Takes Lead. The Union Pacific, with an average of 69.5 miles per day, is far ahead of any other system. It has long hauls where through trains can be run hundreds of miles without being split up in a yard. The New York, New Haven and Hartford, with only 16.6 miles per day, affords an example of opposite conditions. It has short hauls and many yards and terminals. The figures for the larger railroads last year follow:

STOCKS SHOW MARKET IN GRIP OF SPECULATORS

YESTERDAY'S AVERAGES

The New York Times.

New York, March 14.—[Special.]—Action of prices on the stock exchange today was witness to the excessively speculative character of the market.

It indicated that even what was described as last week's "outside selling" had been occasioned much less by actual alarm over the railway situation than by belief that prices of the railway and other stocks were going lower.

At all events the commotion which produced last Friday's "million share market" subsided so abruptly that today's transactions were not greatly in excess of Saturday's two hour business, while the railway shares as a group were neither active nor particularly weak.

Atlantic Gulf Hills New Low.

The only positive movements on the stock exchange were repetitions of the familiar attacks on three or four industrial shares, with the decline which has regularly followed such professional maneuvers, conducted with a view to driving weakly held speculative accounts carried over from last year.

Atlantic Gulf and West Indies dropped 6 points to 34 1/2, a new low mark.

No evidence appeared of urgent selling like last December's to raise money for the income tax, which was freely predicted last week. Taken as a whole, today's stock market was irregular, with net advances and net declines far from balancing each other and with about one-fourth of the total transactions monopolized by the four stocks on which professional operators for the decline conceived their efforts.

French Exchanges Weak.

Europe appeared to have vanished from Wall Street's sphere of observation. Foreign exchange declined to the neighborhood of last Wednesday's rates, with French exchange especially weak. But no one ascribed the movement to European business, British government securities advanced again, and stocks reaching the highest of the year.

The income and profits tax collection, for which the period of quarterly payment is ended, was in no respect reflected or foreboded in today's money market. Both call and time loans remained at the rates from which they have not varied during the present month.

N. Y. SHIPBUILDING IN 1920 DOUBLES NET PER SHARE

New York, March 14.—[Special.]—The report of the New York Shipbuilding Corporation for last year shows net earnings of $2,836,698. This is $114.13 a share earned on the 24,000,000 shares of capital stock, compared with $7.18 in 1919. Surplus, after payment of $800,000 dividends, was $2,036,698, compared with $1,517,792 in 1919.

In his report Marvin A. Neeland, president, said: "The increase in your corporation's working force from 4,500 men on Dec. 31, 1919, to 17,600 on Dec. 31, 1920, was continuing last year, which ended with 15,000 men on the yard payroll. This will, of course, be greatly reduced during the coming year as fast as the government program is completed. Some idea of the scale to which production has been developed can be gathered from a comparison of launching records:

1919. 1920.

Number of ships..... 20 23

Length of ships in feet..... 108,220 111,111

Tonnage gross..... 88,977 101,111

Tonnage deadweight..... 83,000 101,111

Indicated horsepower..... 400,000 400,000

The delivery schedule for 1920 included three passenger ships, sixteen destroyers, and one tanker."

That is the ideal business combination you should work toward in 1921. You can concentrate your efforts on the former if you have taken protective measures to insure the latter.

It gives you peace of mind—a feeling of security and stability—enables you to face the future serenely and optimistically. In any emergency of credit accounts there is nothing so strong or so safe as the American's Policy.

THERE is a saying that "handsome is as handsome does." Every nurse is beautiful in the eyes of the sick, and each of the fourteen nurses whose photographs appear in THE TRIBUNE'S $20,200 beauty contest this morning has her champion, who are certain that the search for the most beautiful girl in the central west need go no farther. Only one of the girls wears her white cap this morning. All of them come into the contest to be judged for their beauty alone. Which one is the most beautiful—Belva, Doris, Florence, Anna, Gladys, Irene, Grace, Adeline, Gunda, Fay, Editha, Myrtle, Marie, or Lucille? Ten thousand dollars will be awarded to the most beautiful girl when she is found. In addition ten prizes will be distributed in each of the six territorial divisions—the city of Chicago, the state of Illinois outside of Chicago, the state of Indiana, the state of Iowa, the state of Wisconsin, and the state of Michigan. The first prize in each of these divisions will be $1,000, the second $250, the third $100, and the remaining seven $50 each. The grand prize winner will receive not only $10,000 in cash, but also one of the sixty territorial prizes. The contest is open to every girl, unmarried or a widow, who resides anywhere in the five states, except professional beauties.

Select a photograph of yourself or some girl friend and write plainly on the back of it the name, street address, and occupation of the entrant. Send the photograph to "Beauty Contest," CHICAGO TRIBUNE, 7 South Dearborn street, Chicago. The judges of the contest are Pauline Palmer, Albin Polasek, and J. Wellington Reynolds.

MRS. B. B.: THE OBESITY problem of the average individual is a matter of eating more than is necessary and exercising less than is necessary. When the appetite is lodged beyond the body's need, the surplus is stored up as fat, and generally in the times least disturbed by muscular action. Around waist and hips the trouble usually is felt first. People eat too much, not because they are gluttonous but simply because they have trained their appetites to overconsumption rather than to their actual needs. You could probably get along on one-third at each meal of your present consumption. Try it for a week, and see if you are not right. Then send me a stamped addressed envelope for a set of exercises to do daily. If you will do these twice a day—morning and night—and cut down on your food, I'll guarantee you a weight reduction.

SKINNY: YOU CAN PUT ON weight. Yes, the coveted five pounds gain inside of a month. A young acquaintance put that much on in two weeks by going to gym four times a week for swimming and basketball and exercises. She drank a quart of milk a day in addition to her regular food. Divided into a glass for breakfast, another for luncheon, one at dinner, and one before retiring. It doesn't sound so much like a full quart does. Another girl gained weight by taking, in addition to her regular breakfast, a cereal with sugar and half cream and repeating this before retiring.

J. J.: PERHAPS BECAUSE THE face is the most exposed part of the body, to keep the skin there from blackheads it must be given constant attention. Sweat glands are abundant in the face and are easily choked with dust and grime, which, allowed to remain, develops blackheads. Remove surplus dirt with cleansing cream, and then wash the face well with warm water and soap and a complexion brush should be used around the nose and mouth corners, where the blackheads abound. Wash in warm and then in cold, cold water.

V. V.: YOU SHOULD NOT FEEL super-sensitive about the superfluous hair on your face. Hundreds of thousands of women suffer from this trouble. Every woman has some beauty sorrow or other—and think of the real troubles you might have. It is all so foolish and so wrong to shed to such dependency. For, after all, this superfluous hair may be removed permanently by electrolysis.

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

The Best Ever Made—'tis of Uniform Grade

Who said they dreaded the thoughts of getting up in the morning?
No one—not when they know that a nice plate of piping hot griddle cakes—made with Calumet—is waiting.
Calumet makes a big difference—you can tell it the minute you put the first tasty bite to your tongue.
Calumet is sure. It never fails. Griddle cakes, biscuits, every baking in which it is used comes to the table just right—light, tender, perfectly raised and thoroughly wholesome.
It contains only such ingredients as have been officially approved by the United States Pure Food Authorities—used by more housewives than any other brand.
There are no failures—no waste. The eggs, butter, flour, sugar and other ingredients that cost you so much money are always converted into pure and tempting bakings.
Calumet has demonstrated to millions of housewives that it is the most dependable and economical—that's why it is the biggest selling brand in the world.
Have you tried it?
A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce cans instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Calumet Griddle Cakes
4 cups flour 1 teaspoon salt
4 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder 3 cups milk
Sift flour, baking powder and salt well together. Add milk, making soft batter. Bake immediately on hot griddle well greased. Add two or three tablespoons of melted butter, if richer and shorter cakes are desired.
